"Little Women" Was Delightfully Given At Broadway Theatre

Clare Tree Major's Production of Alcott Classic Proved Entertaining To Broadway Theatre Audience This Morning—Acting High Class And Lines of Play Clever.

Louisa M. Alcott, one of America's leading women authors, whose fame is based on her stories for children, and her classic "Little Women" brought to life on the stage of the Broadway Theatre this morning when the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre Company produced the story in a four act play that held the close attention of a fair sized audience, made up largely of children, with a scattering of adults. The book had been turned into a clever play by Clare Tree Major, who played the part of Hannah the maid in the Marsh family, and also portrayed the part of Aunt Marge, the peppy old aunt of the Marsh children. As the play unfolded on the stage it brought back to the memories of the older ones among the audience the delightful hours they had spent reading the Alcott classic when they were children. Between the third and fourth acts Mrs. Charles de la Vergne, through whose efforts the children's theatre had been brought to Kingston for several performances, and Clare Tree Major appeared before the footlights and presented the winners of the poster contest with the prizes they had won.

The play opened in the sitting room of the Marsh home with the four Marsh girls discussing Christmas which was only a short while away, and planning what they would get their mother for the holiday. The scene of the story is laid in the days of the Civil War and the father was away in the army serving as chaplain. The girls also rehearse for a play they are planning to give later and which was cleverly presented.

The second act opens on Christmas morning and was filled with action. The gifts to the mother are presented in charming fashion and Jo, one of the lively daughters, has her first story printed in a magazine. Those who have studied the life of Miss Alcott are aware of the fact that "Little Women" is based mainly on incidents in her own life and that of her family.

The climax of the second act is the receipt of a telegram from Mr. March informing her that her husband has seriously ill in a hospital in Washington and to come at once. While she is waiting ready to go out and return with $25 which she gives to her mother to help defray the expenses of the trip. She had obtained the money by selling her beautiful head of hair.

The third act opens with Beth, one of the daughters, being seized with an attack of scarlet fever contracted while she was visiting at the home of a poor family. It is in this act that Clare Tree Major as the old and peppy aunt made her appearance in that character which she acted to perfection. She was exceptionally good also in the part of Hannah.

The fourth and closing act is developed with the return to health of Beth and her father and closes with wedding bells anticipated between one of the daughters and John Brooks.

All of the four acts were laid in the Marsh sitting room and as it was not necessary to make any changes in scenery there were no long waits between the acts and the play proceeded smoothly to its close.

All of the parts were well taken, and the play as one of the most interesting and best acted of the series that have been presented here.

Clare Tree Major in presenting the prize winners with the prizes stated that it was due to the efforts and work of Mrs. Charles de la Vergne that the Children's Theatre had been brought to Kingston, and that if it was desired to have them come again for another series those who had enjoyed the plays should get together and form a committee to assist Mrs. de la Vergne, to whom a vote of thanks should be extended by the parents of the children who have enjoyed the series of plays which have proven wholesome and entertaining.

Action For Recovery Of $100,000 Brought By Mrs. Louise Jongers

Mrs. Louise McAllister Jongers Seeks To Recover $100,000 Allegedly Borrowed Illegally And Without Authorization.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—An action for recovery of $100,000 from the trustees of a long term trust fund established by Mrs. Louise McAllister Jongers, niece of the famous social arbiter, Ward McAllister, for herself, her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Ashley Dent, Jr., her children and successive beneficiaries, was called for trial before Justice Clayton I. Miller in special motions term of supreme court here today.

Removal of the trustees, Thomas Ashley Dent, Jr., and the First Trust and Deposit Company, was sought in the action, together with accounting on the total of $350,000, judicial settlement, costs and appointment of new trustees.

Charges of violation of fiduciary obligations of the trustees were included in the complaint. The basic allegation in the claim for recovery was that $100,000 was borrowed from the trust fund illegally and without authorization.

The fund was trusted March 8, 1927, at the instance of the trustees, it is alleged. At that time Mrs. Louise McAllister Jongers of Paris, France, assigned and transferred $350,000 to the City Bank Trust Company, the First Trust and Deposit Company successors, for trust administration by the corporate trustees and by Thomas A. Dent, Jr.

Income, according to provisions of the trust, should be payable to Mrs. Jongers, her daughter, Mrs. Dent of Greenwood, Pa., and Mrs. Dent's children, Thomas Ashley Dent III and Louise McAllister Dent, both infants at law, and successively upon deceased of the several beneficiaries to Thomas A. Dent, Jr., and to Harriet and Amelia Guyon, who were not otherwise identified in the action.

The fund is now depleted to the extent of $100,000, holding a promissory note of Mr. Dent, alleged to be uncollectable and in default of interest since July, 1931, according to the complaint, filed by Clouder Brothers, New York attorneys.

Last Minute Tax Payers Cause Rush

Albany, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—Sixty sacks of mail, dumped on the floor of the State Tax Department faster than workers could open them, today held the secret of how many citizens got "under the wire" with their 1932 state income tax returns, and how much they paid.

Thousands of envelopes taken from other sacks that were opened showed that returns are likely to be lower than last year's. The last totals struck on the department's adding machines showed that 42,328 money makers had paid the state $5,280,886.76 to date. The corresponding figures for one year ago were $5,401 returns totaling $6,149,655.55.

Most of those whose return blanks have been gone over thus far have paid in full, the department said, although a small number took advantage of the part-payment plan of remitting one half the total amount of the tax by April 15, one-quarter of the remainder by July 15 and the final quarter by October 15. The part-payment group were mostly large taxpayers, the smaller ones paying up at one time as in other years.

HOLD "RAILROAD" ON GRAND LARCENY CHARGE

John "Railroad" Volynski, 24, of 450 Delaware avenue, arrested Monday afternoon on a charge of grand larceny, second degree, preferred by John Deikowski of Red Hook, was held in $500 bail by Judge Bernard A. Culliton in city court this morning when he asked for an adjourned hearing to be held Thursday. Lacking the bail bond, Volynski went to jail.

Patrolman Wesley J. Cramer took "Railroad" into custody Monday afternoon at the place of John Deikowski's residence on Murray street, where he was identified by Deikowski as "the man who took him for a ride in a car and robbed him of $30 in money and other articles."

Large Audience at Benedictine Ball In the New Armory

Music, Spiculated Entertainment, Joked With Easter Spirit To Make Annual Affair Successful.

The Benedictine Charity Ball, held on Easter Monday night at the state armory, was one of the most delightful and successful balls ever given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital for the purpose of raising funds for the charity work of the hospital. The great drill shed was artistically decorated, there was good music for dancing, and a fine and very generous entertainment preceded the dancing. The crowd was one of the largest that had gathered at the new armory and the dainty, picturesque and handsome gowns of the ladies together with the neutral tinted walks offered an attractive picture. As is the pleasing custom at the Benedictine balls, an attractive little reception room had been arranged, where Mrs. Miller, president of the auxiliary, officers of the auxiliary, members of the hospital staff, the clergy of the Roman Catholic Churches of the city, and distinguished guests were seated, and where Mrs. Miller welcomed the guests. Among the especially distinguished guests were the Rev. Father John J. Hickey, formerly pastor of St. Mary's Church, now of New York city, and Pierre Henrotte, concertmaster of the Metropolitan Opera, and Mrs. Henrotte. Among the long list of patrons who supported the ball should be added the names of James O. Winston of Southington, B. J. Van Ingen, superintendent of the Kingston public schools, and John Egan.

The drill shed of the armory had been artistically decorated with hanging baskets of gold and orchids, flowers and green foliage, and with large rings carrying long streamers of gold and green. Branches of golden colored flowers and flat baskets of flowers adorned the side walls. The orchestras of John P. Erno and Paul Zucca were placed on the stage and the farther end of the armory and alternated in giving a fine concert before the program and splendid music for the dancing which lasted to the morning hours. An elaborate and very interesting program had been arranged and Attorney Matthew T. Cahill acted as the master of ceremonies.

Mr. Cahill expressed the sentiments of all present when he said they would be honored to have the Easter ball opened by the Hon. Philip Elting, who would say a few words about the Benedictine Hospital and the Auxiliary which was giving the ball to raise funds for the charity work of the hospital.

What Sisters Have Done.

Mr. Elting in behalf of the Benedictine Sisters, greeted the big audience and said that none knew better than he of the merciful, noble, self-sacrificing ministry to the sick carried on at the Benedictine Hospital, especially in the wonderful charity wards of that institution. Mr. Elting doubted if the community could fully appreciate all of the honest-to-God charity so generously and mercifully performed at the Benedictine Hospital. In order that the audience might the better appreciate the institution they were supporting, Mr. Elting had asked Sister Benetice to give him a few interesting facts, and they were as follows:

"The Benedictine Hospital, like all other hospitals, takes an important place in the physical, social and economic life of the community in which it is located.

"Down the years, through all the many stages of its development, the hospital has been considered a place of refuge, of safety and protection for human lives. In this respect the hospital of today has not changed in its real function, namely, trying to make life safer and better for humanity.

"The Benedictine realizes it is service alone that counts. It was this desire of service that prompted the opening of the various clinics in the Benedictine Hospital for the benefit of the people of the county of Ulster. Not only have hundreds who were unable to pay been examined free, but minimum charges were given to clinic patients who had to enter the hospital for treatment. Never was any distinction made in regard to race, color or creed.

"The Benedictine appreciates the splendid cooperation it constantly receives from the people of Kingston and vicinity and hopes it will continue so that its service will ever be equal for the harvest awaiting it."

Mr. Elting further added some figures to be carefully considered in connection with the work. They showed that in the year 1932, the total expenses of the hospital were $102,197.45 and the deficit for the year amounted to $20,756.35. The unpaid accounts for charity and general relief—for the months of January, February and March of this year already amount to $9,876.52, showing the great need of the support of the entire community.

While all of the numbers on the program were most appreciatively applauded, those by the children were especially enjoyed. The pupils of Miss Cashin's School of Dancing opened the program with a snappy military tap drill that clicked to the dot. Throughout the costumes of the children who danced were picturesque and clever. Other numbers by Miss Cashin's pupils were a toe dance, an eccentric toe dance, a shuffle and soft shoe dance, a clever Dutch treat dance.

Then came a group of numbers by the pupils of Mrs. Emilia Riccobene Weyhe's School of Dancing, which were also well received.

Ruth Judd Screams And Fights In Test Concerning Sanity

Likely She Will Be Granted Stay So Hearing May Be Continued To Determine Her Mental Condition—Current In Prison.

Florence, Ariz., April 18 (AP)—With a jury still hearing evidence as to whether Winnie Ruth Judd is raving mad at times or is actively feigning insanity, it seemed likely today she would not be led to the gallows Friday.

The blonde 28-year-old woman, who has confessed slaying her friends, Agnes Anne Lerol and Hedvig Samuelson, in Phoenix and who was captured in Los Angeles after their dismembered bodies had been found there in trunks, was carried fighting and screaming from the courtroom late yesterday.

Every activity connected with her reached a high pitch. Rumbblings of discontent were heard among the prisoners at the state penitentiary where she has been kept under a death watch.

Rev. and Mrs. H. J. McKinnell, who had given evidence intended to show their daughter was insane ago at the trial at which Mrs. Judd was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Lerol, testified there had been insanity on both sides of the family.

Mrs. Judd's attorneys petitioned the state board of pardons and paroles for a reprieve to include the 13th day of May, which would extend the time for execution to May 19, since hangings in Arizona by custom are held on Friday.

Her counsel said it was not likely this sanity hearing, Mrs. Judd's second, could be completed before next Friday. The said time also was needed for preparation of an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Former Governor George W. P. Hunt denied at Yuma a report that he had telegraphed Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President, asking her to aid Mrs. Judd. He said a group of Phoenix women had proposed such a plan but he advised against it.

Dr. William C. Judd testified his wife was suffering from dementia praecox.

"God himself could not coach that woman to act insane," he told the jury—"all she has to do is act natural. From intense dejection she rises to the most supreme exhilaration."

While he was testifying Mrs. Judd suddenly shrieked, "Leave me alone!" Her features were contorted. Her hair streamed over her face. "Quit torturing me! You bullies! You cowards! You gangsters! Quit torturing me!"

Two matrons put their hands over her mouth in an effort to quiet her. She bit them. The court ordered Warden A. G. Walker to remove her from the courtroom and he carried her out fighting and screaming. "They keep torturing me—the bullies!"

Helen Vasko Found At Relative's Home

Heardings, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—Little Helen Vasko, the 2-year-old girl whom doctors have called doomed unless she undergoes an eye operation, was found today after being hidden away in the home of relatives since Saturday.

Her mother, declaring against an operation, has fought attempts of physicians to have it performed. Last Saturday, with the appellate division still considering physicians' plea for a legal order to force the operation, the Vasko family disappeared from its home.

John Vasko, immigrant laborer and father of two-year-old Helen, disclosed her whereabouts early today when he called at a police station and demanded protection against "hordes" of curious who had gathered around his home since the case received widespread notice.

He said Helen and the rest of the family had been in seclusion at the home of John Zabavsk, a cousin of Mrs. Vasko's. They would go home today, he said, if the police would keep the crowds away.

"They are making my little Helen sick," he complained bitterly.

Police announced that the street in front of the Vasko home would be roped off, and a guard stationed there.

One Juror Accepted During Morning in Quick Murder Case

Edward J. Ryan of Kingston First Juror Accepted of Many Quizzed at Morning Court Session—Two Are on Trial.

Edward J. Ryan of Kingston, timekeeper and foreman in the employ of the city, was the lone juror selected at the morning session of county court where the Anton Baessler-Michael Conner murder case is being tried. Baessler and Conner are charged with the murder of Uriah Quick of Leibhardt last January.

The charge is murder, first degree, and the selection of a jury progresses very slow since the people and two defendants have an opportunity to examine each juror as he is called.

At the opening of court Sheriff Saxe in compliance with the direction of the court made a return in the two cases where men summoned as jurors failed to show up Monday afternoon. In both instances it was impossible to locate the men. The two men who could not be located were George Sherwood and Abram Breunman. Doctor's certificates were filed with the court in the cases where the jurors had been reported ill.

Attorney LeRoy Lounsbury who appears for Anton Baessler then moved for a separate trial on the part of Baessler. The motion was heard at chambers where the court adjourned in order that nothing prejudicial to the defendants might be heard before the prospective jurors. The motion for a separate trial on the part of Baessler was denied by the court as was the same motion made Monday afternoon on the part of Conner.

After the matter of challenges had been disposed of and counsel for both defendants had been instructed by the court that both must join in peremptory challenges before the court could allow them, Mr. Lounsbury in behalf of Baessler asked that Baessler be allowed 30 peremptory challenges. This was denied and a similar motion was made by Roger H. Loughran in behalf of Conner and that motion was denied. Tried together the usual 30 challenges will be allowed the usual 20 challenges although Judge Traver said he would be lenient in excuses where he felt that the case of The People or the case of the defendants would be prejudiced by denying an application for the excusing of a juror. Judge Traver stated that he wanted both the defense and the prosecution to have a fair trial.

The name of Werner Marks was called. He was the first juror examined and during the examination it developed that his name was Werner Marks and that he resided at Belle Air in Ulster county although his post office was Arena in Delaware county. The man summoned was Werner Marks of Low Beach. Mr. Marks stated that he had been sent the summons from the Low Beach post office as he was the only man in that locality by that name. The summons was as certified by the town of Hardenburgh to the county clerk and probably was a typographical error. However, Mr. Loughran objected to the juror on the grounds that there might be some mistake in identity and he challenged the juror. Mr. Lounsbury stated that he questioned the identity of the juror as the man intended to be summoned and the juror was excused by Judge Traver.

Next came Mr. Ryan. He said he had read of the case and had formed an opinion but could put aside that opinion and decide the case on the evidence. He said it was not a decided opinion but one formed from reading of the case. He is a former alderman and supervisor. He proved to be satisfactory to The People and was accepted by the defense and was sworn as Juror No. 1. When court recessed he was taken in charge by two court officers and will be kept under supervision of the court until the case is finally submitted.

Arthur Coons of Ellenville was called. He said Mr. Lounsbury was his counsel and at present had matter either for Mr. Coons or his wife. He was excused by the court.

McKinstry Challenged.

Alfred D. McKinstry, Gardiner store-keeper, was called next. He said he had not read of the case or heard of it. He does not read a local paper. Monday while enroute to Kingston was the first he knew a murder case was to be tried. He told Mr. Lounsbury that he had served on a grand jury. He said he knew an indictment was a charge against a defendant and that he believed the defendant must then appear in court and prove his innocence. He was challenged for cause. Judge Traver instructed him that a defendant was presumed to be innocent until proven guilty by evidence submitted at a trial and Mr. McKinstry said he would take his instructions from the court as Judge Traver knew most about the law. The juror said he was a justice of the peace. However later on examination by Mr. Lounsbury he again stated that a defendant would have to prove his innocence in court and was excused when Mr. Lounsbury challenged. Mr. McKinstry stated that fact after Judge Traver had instructed him that the defendant would not have to produce one bit of evidence to show their innocence if The People failed to prove guilt.

Ward Mathews of Kingston was called next. He said he had read of the case but had formed no opinion.

Streams Raised To Flood Levels, Esopus Up 11 Feet During Night

Flood Waters Spread Over Lowlands and Are Close to John Walker's House on the Plank Road—Fears for the Temporary Bridge at Napanoch—Continuous Rain and Melting Snow In the Catskills Result in the Flood Waters.

The rain which started Sunday afternoon and which from Sunday evening on has been almost continuous, has raised streams in this entire section and up the Rondout Valley to flood levels.

At the office of the Department of Water Supply it was stated this morning that the gauge at the Coldbrook station showed a rise in the Esopus during the night of 11 feet, which had dropped to 10.2 feet this morning. There has been 3.5 inches of rainfall at that station during the past two days and at the high point the Esopus was running seven and a half billion gallons of water in 24 hours.

At the aerator station gauge at the reservoir records show a total of 3.37 inches of rainfall for three days, up to 9 a. m. today. A sheet of water 20 inches deep is running over the spillway at the dam, which is the highest since 1923, when on June 30 there was 14 inches running over the spillway.

The rainfall at the reservoir gauge, of 3.37 inches for the three days, compares with 4.25 inches September 29 and 30, 1924 and 6.33 inches October 4, 5 and 6, 1932.

Flood conditions below the reservoir are much more pronounced this morning, however, than during the periods of heavier rainfall last year and in 1924. This is due to the fact that when the last rain started on Sunday the reservoir was entirely filled, with water running over the spillway, so that the Esopus is getting the full benefit of the rainfall and lowlands all along the valley, from the reservoir down, are flooded. At the farm of John Walker, Jr., on the Plank Road, the flood waters had spread over much of his lowland and this morning was within a foot or so of his house.

At the Glilboa reservoir, which has been full for some time past, nearly 22 inches of water were pouring over the spillway and into the Mohawk this morning at the rate of six billion gallons a day. The rainfall in that watershed has been comparatively light, however, the Prattville gauge showing a total of but 54 inches. Incidentally none of the Glilboa water is coming into the Esopus, the tunnel having been shut off since April 1.

The present rate of flow, in the Esopus above the reservoir, and in the Schoharie creek also, is far from high marks, however, a flow of as high as 25 billion gallons in 24 hours has been registered in the Esopus and the Schoharie has gone as high as 27 billion gallons in 24 hours.

The rainfall has been heavy up the Rondout Valley. The Rondout at Napanoch is the highest it has been since the disastrous flood of August, 1928, when there was loss of life as well as thousands of dollars of property damage. At Kerhonkson the stream has overflowed the flats south of that village and it was stated there has been a raise of two feet since Monday night.

At Accord the Mombaccus creek, always a troublesome stream, was above the opening under the new concrete bridge over the state highway this morning and the flood waters were spreading to considerable depth over fields on each side.

At Napanoch there were fears for the temporary bridge near the institution for Male Defective Delinquents, the water being within a foot or so of the bridge Monday night.

Rivers On Spree As April Runs Wild

(By The Associated Press)

Rivers on a spring spree wallowed over lowlands in northern New England, southern Indiana, northeast Arkansas and the Mississippi delta today while the weather staged a crazy exhibition.

Snow in California and cold in Dixie were among the special demonstrations of what April can do. At St. Johnsbury Center in Vermont, residents were aroused at midnight and told to prepare for flight before the unruly Passumpsic. Rain in torrents and melting snow heaped the river out of its banks. The Ipswich thrashed about in Massachusetts and the Connecticut rose in New Hampshire.

The White, Wabash and Ohio rivers were swollen by persistent rains in Indiana and a highway between Seymour and Louisville, Ky., had to be closed because of high water.

Down in the Mississippi Delta, the Tallahatchie, Yazoo and several other perennial miscreants chased valley dwellers to high ground. The Mississippi was up but still tractable. Thousands of acres have been inundated in the delta.

A company of National Guardsmen at Keosauqua, Mo., was called out to patrol the St. Francis river levee west of there as the stream neared crest. It gave trouble in southeast Missouri and northwest Arkansas.

At Napanoch there were fears for the temporary bridge near the institution for Male Defective Delinquents, the water being within a foot or so of the bridge Monday night.

History of the Y. M. C. A. Noted

The Young Men's Christian Association is a World Brotherhood, which extends into 51 different countries with a membership of 1,700,000. There are 1,600 centers in the United States and Canada with a membership of over 1,000,000.

The association offers a positive program using every power of suggestion to teach the ideals that go to make character. It has the objective a balanced personality embodied in the unity of life which it seeks to further through physical fitness, mental training, religious idealism, social fellowship, and economic and vocational guidance.

The first Y. M. C. A. was organized in Kingston in 1886. The first meeting was held in the First Dutch Reformed Church. Roundout already had a Y. which was organized in 1880. These two associations joined forces and organized the Kingston Central Y. M. C. A. in 1896.

For over 30 years the present organization has been carrying on. No adequate means has yet been found with which to measure results of character building work. Here and there are outstanding examples of its influence but the thousands who have passed through the doors of the association building and have been influenced by the association program cannot be counted nor can the extent of this influence be measured.

One of the big problems of the modern day is "how to assist people in making better use of leisure time." This is especially true at the present time. The Y. M. C. A. gives a partial answer to this question. With its variety of educational, social, religious and health building groups it turns the leisure time of many young men and boys into periods of preparation for more useful lives.

STATE NUNES WILL MEET AT MIDDLETOWN

There will be a meeting of District No. 11 of the New York State Nurses' Association, which will be held at the Middletown State Hospital, Friday, April 21, at 2 p. m.

Assemblyman William J. Lamont will be the speaker. A large attendance is hoped for.

Annual Session Of Ulster District I.O.O.F.

Jacob M. Macdonald, of Highland, Is Elected District Deputy at Meeting Held in West Saugerties.

(Official Report)

The annual session of the District Grand Committee of Ulster met in the rooms of Catskill Mountain Lodge No. 487 in West Saugerties on Friday evening, April 14. The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock with District Deputy Jacob M. Rogers and staff presiding. Prayer was offered by Chaplain John Myers. A class of 20 past grantees was examined by the credential committee and upon being introduced the Past Grantees' degree was conferred by the presiding deputy. The class was the largest in years and swelled materially the membership of the District Grand Committee. The names and lodge affiliations of the new members are as follows:

Edwin J. DuBois, Aretas, No. 172; Benjamin Builey, Howard Bell, Wesley O'Brien, Bernard Lapo of Bearsville, No. 532.

Thomas Vacharick, Jason Vedder, Fred W. Cole, Ernest Schimer of Catskill Mountain, No. 487.

William Wynkoop, Frederick Huber, George Helyea of William H. Raymond, No. 53.

Royal Morris, Martin Johnson of Phoenix, No. 54.

Harold DuBois, Daniel Stokes, George Wilkinson, Floyd E. Mackey, Sunshine No. 529.

Clifford B. Donahoe of Shokan No. 491.

Frank Miller, of U. S. Grant, No. 529.

(Five late arrivals in the above group were received following the supper recess.)

The minutes of the secretary from the preceding meeting were next read and approved and also drew commendation as one of the finest reports read in years.

The chairman then called for a report of the grievance committee. Past District Deputy Arthur E. Trowbridge and other speakers commented upon the happy fact that no grievance existed among the lodges of Ulster District, and that such a committee was needless. These announcements were heartily approved.

At this point a motion was entertained and unanimously carried, that the session be adjourned until 8:30 in order that ample time might be afforded for the enjoyment of the banquet now prepared in waiting down stairs at the hands of the super committee. Members of Queen of the Catskills Rebekah Lodge. The very delightful menu was as follows: Hot roast beef, mashed potatoes, gravy, peas, salad, celery, most delicious raised biscuit, butter, coffee, apple pie with ice cream and lastly, cigars.

During the after supper interval groups of card players filled available spaces both upstairs and down, until the call for the convention again resounded at 8:30.

Following the receiving of the second class of candidate as previously noted. The next order of business was the reading of the report of the District Deputy, which was very comprehensive, showing the painstaking efforts on the part of the deputy and his able staff during their half year term of office, in their informal visits and installations among the various lodges in the District of Ulster. The report revealed the fine spirit of cooperation and optimism existing among the lodges, tending for the advancement of the cause of good Ulster County Odd Fellowship. The times have been hard upon the resources of many lodges, unemployment has proven detrimental to increasing membership, sickness and death benefits have depleted the treasuries, but through all the attending gloom of depression the shining principles of Friendship, Love and Truth made practical continue as the sound foundation upon which American Odd Fellowship was founded by Thomas Wilkey and his faithful handful of followers nearly a century and a quarter ago.

The cheering message of Deputy Rogers was accepted by the convention with a rising vote of thanks and whole hearted applause. The report of the secretary and treasurer was then adopted. The finance committee also examined the report and reported favorably. The committee constituted Past District Deputies Henry A. Lamourne, Charles B. Wright and Past Grand John Myers. They also recommended that a per capita assessment of 10 cents per member be levied upon the lodges of the district, on 1,346 members.

The next order of business was the nominations for the office of district deputy for the ensuing year.

Past District Deputy Arthur E. Trowbridge in a glowing word tribute placed in nomination the name of Jacob H. Donovan of Sunshine Lodge, No. 929. The nomination was heartily accepted. A further nomination was presented in the name of Charles E. Sickler, one of the outstanding members of Garfield Lodge, No. 422, of Ulster Park, and favorably known through I. O. O. F. fraternal circles about Ulster and adjoining districts. Brother Sickler promptly withdrew in favor of Brother Donovan. Nominations were then declared closed.

In accordance with a recently invoked Grand Lodge decree, the examination committee, consisting of Past Deputies J. Henry Hill of William H. Raymond Lodge, No. 59, and David Bush of Aretas Lodge, No. 172, retired with Candidate Donovan for a full examination into the unwritten work of the Subordinate Lodge. Upon returning he was recommended as duly qualified for the important office. A motion was then entertained, seconded and carried that the secretary cast a ballot as the unanimous choice of the convention for Jacob J. Donovan, whereupon he was declared elected. This was followed by a cheering outburst of applause.

Next in order came nominations for secretary and treasurer. Past District Deputy David Bush recommended the re-election of the present incumbent, Past Grand Edwin C. Davis of Shokan Lodge, No. 491. A further nomination was offered by Past Grand John Jordan, of Shokan Lodge, naming Brother Past Grand Newton C. Van Eaton of Aretas Lodge, No. 172, but upon his prompt nomination, Past District Deputy J. Henry Hill was designated by the chairman to cast a ballot in favor of Brother Davis is the unanimous choice of the convention. The secretary was accorded a cordial round of applause and in return briefly expressed his thanks for the continued confidence shown in his office.

The committee then proceeded to endorse the following regular nominations for grand lodge officers: Grand master, John W. Lamourne, Majestic Lodge, No. 534; deputy grand master, William W. Builey, Lake George Lodge, No. 912; grand warden, Peter Krone, Jupiter Lodge, No. 275; grand secretary, Clinton W. Boyce, Salina Lodge, No. 97; grand treasurer, William Klumpen, Marlin Lodge, No. 552; grand representative, Edgar S. Mosher; Harndenburgh Lodge, No. 748.

Special appeals favoring Peter Krone for grand warden as a most eminent and qualified member of the order to be placed in line for the supreme office of grand master of the state of New York. It is further believed that his election would enhance the position of the Hudson valley lodges. On various occasions this distinguished New York city brother has visited Ulster county in company with Past Deputy Saxon, who is likewise connected with the law firm of Peter and Joel Krone.

The grand secretary, Clayton W. Boyce, grand treasurer, William Klumpen, and grand representative, Edgar S. Mosher, are well and favorably known by the Odd Fellows of Ulster county and the Hudson valley.

The following list of committees were named by the chairman:

Finance Committee—Henry A. Lamourne, Charles B. Wright, John Myers.

Resolutions Committee—Newton Van Etten, George Johnson, John Berger.

Credential Committee—J. Henry Hill, Bradley Shultis, Lester B. Davis.

The proceedings of the meeting now came to the Good of the Order. At this time the chairman directed that Past Deputy J. Henry Hill escort the deputy elect to the noble grange station for the purpose of an official introduction before the convention. The response of Brother Donovan in his acceptance rang with sincerity and inspiration. He stated that he fully realized the great honor which had been granted him and asked that the continued hearty cooperation on the part of lodges and individual members which has been accorded his distinguished brother, deputy, accompany his incoming administration. In closing Brother Donovan extended a most cordial invitation that the next annual session be held at his home lodge in Highland. The invitation was unanimously accepted and the speaker given another lusty applause. At the roll call which followed the following lodges were represented with delegations:

Aretas No. 172, 15 present; Advance No. 430, none; Bearsville No. 523, 6; Catskill Mountain No. 487, 15; Garfield No. 422, 3; Hiawatha No. 532, 1; Kosciusko No. 86, 1; Sunshine No. 929, 12; U. S. Grant No. 529, 7; Phoenix No. 154, 2; William H. Raymond No. 59, 16; Shokan No. 491, 10.

Next in order came a discussion in regard to whether the innovations of night sessions be continued or revert back to the time honored day sessions of the past. The preponderance of opinion favored the night sessions for various reasons, principally the convenience for those who might be favored with employment during the day and not feeling able during these times to sacrifice a day's employment in order to attend. Only one delegate rose to voice his protest. He pointed out that there were in the district aging brothers, who for many years had sacrificed their time in order to be on hand and take part in the annual session, but did not now feel it conducive to their health to attend night sessions, which at times might be held as much as 30 miles from their homes. His voiced opinions were respectfully received but it was felt that the first tryout of an evening session greatly merited its continuance. After some discussions as to the date it was made the unanimous vote of the committee that the next year's session be held on the second Friday night in April.

Next in order came the report of the resolution committee. A suitably prepared memorial was read by Brother George Jopson in honored memory to the members who have gone on to the Lodge Eternal during the past year. The deceased brethren are: John J. Kelder of Aretas Lodge No. 172; E. E. Miller of U. S. Grant Lodge No. 529; W. O. Miller of U. S. Grant Lodge No. 529; Jacob DeGroat of U. S. Grant Lodge No. 529; John U. Gillette of Garfield Lodge No. 422; Clarence Donahoe of Shokan Lodge No. 491; William H. Burgher of Shokan Lodge No. 491. As a mark of tribute the convention rose and stood in a moment of silent meditation. This was an impressive interval.

The resolution was unanimously adopted and the secretary instructed to send a copy to the bereaved families.

Rules of the meeting were suspended and the chairman directed that Past Deputy Arthur E. Trowbridge proceed downstairs and in his own affable and irresistible way personally gather the whole group of the spirited and husky Rebekah committee and escort them to the floor of the convention. Having accomplished this quite remarkable feat the smiling blushing ladies were introduced with the accustomed grace and charm of words and manner that has made Brother Trowbridge a most popular favorite among the various Rebekah lodges throughout Ulster county and even its borders beyond. The chairman, Deputy Rogers, in behalf of the convention expressed in well chosen sentences the unstinted appreciation felt by all for the very satisfying banquet that had been their privilege to partake. The ladies continued smiling in their approval as they retired amid a most hearty outburst of applause.

Returning to the order of the meeting the following drafts were ordered drawn: Queen of the Cat-kills Rebekah Lodge, $75; janitor service, $2; secretary's salary, $50; total, $127.

The chair next acknowledged President Bradley Shultis of the Ulster County Past Grands Association who spoke in behalf of the organization, reviewing its recent accomplishments and offering cooperative efforts in behalf of the lodges in the district could it be of assistance at any time. He also urged that all past grantees make it a point to become members and that by so doing a stronger body might be banded in mutual assistance, and thus stand a fraternal citadel among the Hudson Valley cities. The Christianity and Odd Fellowship were linked hand in hand. He expressed his great privilege to be permitted to once more rather with his brothers at a District meeting well known to all. Past District Deputy James I. Jopson of Aretas Lodge No. 172, formerly of the old C. S. Lodge, Great Beyond.

he told of his many years experience as an Odd Fellow and a Christian. He urged that all Odd Fellows adhere strictly to the spirit of their obligation and by so doing be made not only true Odd Fellows but better citizens.

He strongly recommended the order as a means whereby young men not members, could by accompanying members and workers in the order, broaden their vision and develop character by its applied teachings, which would unquestionably tend to make them better and useful citizens in after life. ## A Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER
 WASHINGTON — Back in the days when the republicans were in control of the house the favorite target of the democrats was the famed triumvirate of "Longworth, Tilson and Snell."

These three leaders—Longworth, the speaker; Tilson, the floor leader; and Snell, the chairman of the rules committee—were variously dubbed "The Three Horsemen," "The Three Musketeers," and sometimes were accused by their opponents of riding rough shod over the will of the majority of the house.

The cry of "tag rule" was raised frequently and strong then. Demands for liberalization were heard on all sides by the democrats. And they promised themselves if they ever were returned to power in the house things would be different. Longworth is dead. Tilson no longer is a member of congress. The third of the trio, Bert Snell, is now the republican floor leader.

And how he is enjoying himself these days reminding his democratic friends of the times they denounced him!

Faster! Faster!
 For the democratic leaders in the house, in their zeal and eagerness to rush through President Roosevelt's emergency legislative program, have been pushing the members along at top speed.

They have brooked little delay. Once a proposal of the President is sent to "the hill" it has been quickly dispatched through the committee, a special rule for the legislation possibly being framed in the rules committee, and it is brought out on the floor.

A special rule for a piece of legislation is a powerful weapon. Usually it curtails debate to the minimum, often precludes the right of members to offer amendments in which they are interested, and shuts down generally on the proposition.

That's why the house has been able to move so quickly in the disposition of the President's program so far. Such a thing is impossible in the senate.

Memory—And Chuckles

Snell can't resist the temptation to jibe the democratic leaders whenever they bring in these special rules. He still remembers how they used to rawhide him for the same tactics.

He sits at the republican leader's big red table, his face wreathed in broad grin, and his tongue in his cheek. He sends in his best sharpshooters to raze the democratic leaders for "gagging" the house, while he sits back enjoying their discomfiture.

The more the democratic leaders squirm and try to defend their stand, the broader his grin grows. Sometimes he'll take a shot at them himself, but he prefers to let his trained hecklers do the job.

He's waited a long time to enjoy such moments. He doesn't want to miss a second of the show.

the accomplishments which had attended his well-rounded life as a fraternalist and churchman. Association President Bradley Shultis also commented in fitting words toward the veteran Brother Osterhaus.

There followed remarks in more or less humorous vein by Brothers Jopson, Henry A. Lamourne, Deputy-elect Donahoe, Trowbridge.

Among the veterans present at the last year's session held in Saugerties and at this time conspicuous by their absence were Past District Deputy Henry E. McKean of Garfield Lodge and Stephen Cordes of Catskill Mountain Lodge. It might fittingly be observed that Veteran John Halliday of Garfield Lodge, who became a Past Grand in 1879, was present and enjoying good health. He is also one of the few remaining veterans of the Civil War and was for 45 years a seafaring man on the waters of the Atlantic ocean, retiring after long years as captain. He is today one of the active Odd Fellows of the district.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with and the session closed. It was generally felt that the gathering had been one of the most successful in years and was conducted with a dispatch not found in the day sessions of the past. Despite the fact that the meeting fell on the night of Good Friday night, kept some members from attending, there was a greater number present than at the last year's day session in Saugerties.

Tulle and Flower Bridal Ensembles

By CHERRY NICHOLAS

MAKE way for the Easter bride—she comes! Pretty as a picture, too, for never has a springtime bride had more lovely array at her disposal than that which present-day style creators are placing at her command.

Now that the wedding preparations are on you can feel romance in the very air. You note it in the billowy masses of tulle which are floating in frothy whiteness across the horizon of busy workrooms.

One problem confronting the forthcoming bride is as to whether her nuptial veil shall be daintily modern or quaintly picturesque, or perhaps just discreetly conventional. The trend this spring leans in the direction of novelty. For a real thrill we refer Miss Bride-to-be, who has gone utterly modern in her ideas, to the picture herewith. The unusualness of this headdress stamps it as a decidedly up-to-the-moment creation. These trim or visor flares of tulle are very new and chic.

The little wreath of orange blossoms about the crown—adorable! The day muff which the bride carries which is also fashioned of orange blossoms, what more enchanting in the way of flowery adornment could a springtime bride long for? Wondering about the material for the gown? The answer is white dull crepe with peon d'ange lace for the bodice and the sleeves.

Of course, no self-esteeming bridesmaid is going to allow the bride to totally eclipse her. At least, the maid of honor smiling at the bride in the picture, has seen to it that she share in the glory. Her gown is of pink lace in that lustrous chalky finish which is so satisfying to the eye. Her love-of-a-chapeau is of pink malines with pink satin rose petals crowning it, her generously large muff being fashioned of the same—a symphony in pink is she.

And have you heard about the cunning ruffled tulle muffs many bridesmaids will be carrying this spring? They are in delectable pastel tones, either monotone or in rainbow tints.

In fact, in the opinion of some, muffs of tulle are newer than those of flowers, for the bride as well as her attendants. The happy thought in this connection is that the prospective bride may, if she choose, be entirely relieved of the trying ordeal of working out in detail with her dressmaker, or whoever has her trousseau in hand, the matter of these perfectly lovely tulle fantasies, for all leading specialty departments and shops carry the most captivating ensembles of this sort and in every conceivable color scheme.

And so, whereas in older days the hurried, flustered bride-to-be must needs spend weary days in conference with those who were planning a "picture wedding" for her, nowadays all one has to do is to ask to be shown the latest in hats, veils and muff accessories. The beautiful ensembles which the dealer will bring forth will be a revelation—the entire plan worked out to a sleeky and inexpensively, often at less cost than could be worked out at home.

SMART THREE-PIECE
By CHERRY NICHOLAS

This stunning three-piece traveling suit is in green and white. The three-tiered bag is new. The hat is related to the costume in that it is created of novelty straw which is woven in green and white check to correspond with the motif of the tweed. Two distinct fashion trends are here emphasized, that of the color-matched hat which may, as in this instance, be of a different medium or as is often the case the hat is of the same tweed or weave as the suit. The other style point accentuated is the fact of the jacket and skirt being complemented with a cape which may be worn or not at one's own pleasure, which makes it extremely practical.

DRESS PRINTS USE ANCIENT PATTERNS

Dame Fashion constantly borrows from the past along with all the rest of the world. Now it's the smartest of the new spring fashions which simulate in the most modern of weaves the patterns dear to the hearts of our feminine ancestors several generations ago. There's the herringbone linen which looks like wool, to name just one of the many spring fancies which hark back to the days of crinoline and hoops for inspiration in design.

Particularly popular with women these days are the new prints, many of which employ the small figuring so popular in our grandmothers' day. These vie for favor with the chalky prints seen frequently in variously colored plaids combined with white.

Egyptian Motif Is Seen in Latest Paris Styles

Fashions with an Egyptian leaning have suddenly appeared in Paris. For some reason—unaccountable to the stylists—many of the newest spring modes appearing in the French capital seem to have come from some Egyptian origin. Oriental colors and designs are noticeable in the printed silks, in handbags, in decorative scarves—in any phase of fashion which calls for pattern or combinations of color. In jewelry especially is this new tendency in evidence.

One of the most frequently seen indications of the Egyptian is in color schemes—bright green jade and turquoise used against backgrounds of yellowish gold.

Sports Costumes

Boldly striped black and white tweed makes a stunning sport suit. The skirt is divided, but you never would guess it because it is all cut in gores and flares out in just the right places to make it alluring. There is a little close fitting jacket that goes with it.

Quick Murder Case Occupies Attention Of the April Court

Anton Baessler and Michael Conner,
Charged With Murder of Aged Farmer, Stand Trial On Indictments.

The trial of the indictment charging Anton Baessler of Kerhonkson and Michael Conner of Stamford with murder, first degree, was moved Monday afternoon by District Attorney Cleon B. Murray and today the matter of selecting twelve men to hear the evidence was taken up. Baessler, Kerhonkson restaurant man, and Conner, a former employee of Baessler, are charged with murdering Uriah Quick, aged Leibhardt farmer at his home on January 22 last. With the two men involved in the crime is also Mrs. Mary A. Fish, of this city, who is indicted for murder, second degree. She will not be tried with the two men.

It is charged that Baessler and Conner and Mrs. Fish caused the death of Uriah Quick at his home in Leibhardt on January 22. His body was not found until January 26, when neighbors observing his absence about the place investigated and found his body at the foot of an outside stone cellar stairway. It was believed that Quick had fallen down the steps and indicated fatal injuries, but when Coroner Humiston removed the body to his undertaking parlors and an investigation was begun by District Attorney Murray, Sergeant Hopkins of the State Police and Coroner Humiston it was learned that there was foul play involved. A careful investigation disclosed evidence of murder at the Quick home and coupled with information which was quickly gathered in Kerhonkson the three people now charged with the murder were apprehended a few hours after the body was discovered although the actual killing had taken place several days prior and every opportunity had been given for the murderers to cover up their tracks.

Discovery of the murder was made in the evening and by midnight Baessler was under arrest as he returned to his home from Kingston. Mrs. Fish was arrested in Kingston at a West Strand address by city police while State Troopers arrested Conner at Stamford shortly after midnight. All three were in jail within 12 hours after the body of Quick had been found.

Monday afternoon an extra panel of jurors drawn for the trial reported to the court. Of the 100 extra men summoned 90 answered to roll call and of them 24 were excused by the court on presenting legal excuses. Later morning were excused when LeRoy Lounsberry, attorney for Baessler, and Roger H. Loughran, attorney for Conner, objected to certain men whose names had appeared erroneously on the regularly drawn list. Thirty of the original panel of jurors drawn for the April term remain making a total of 91 jurors available now.

LeRoy Lounsberry of Ellenville with Lloyd R. LeFever of this city of counsel appear for Baessler. Michael Conner is represented by Roger H. Loughran of this city who has been appointed by the court to defend Conner who had no funds to procure counsel and who asked the court to assign counsel.

After the jurors had been called and those offering legal excuses had been excused by the court Mr. Lounsberry asked leave to examine the names of the extra panel as they appeared on the clerk's list together with the returns made by Sheriff Saxe. Mr. Murray stated that there was no objection as both were public records.

After some time Mr. Lounsberry in behalf of Baessler and Mr. Loughran in behalf of Conner challenged the extra panel of jurors on the grounds that the provisions of Section 536 of the Judiciary Law had not been complied with in the summoning of the extra jurors. Mr. Lounsberry stated that under the law notice must be sent to each juror in an enclosed registered letter and that such letter must be delivered to the person so addressed or a responsible person. Further that a return must be made to the sheriff of the registered letter receipt. This he said had not been done. The customary return postcards such as are used in summoning jurors were used and the juror on receipt of the notice returns the attached return card after signing it. These were produced by Sheriff Saxe as the returns made to notices sent out. Mr. Lounsberry also challenged the manner in which jurors were served. He stated that the law prescribed that within five miles personal service was made and that outside that radius mail was permitted, until 10 o'clock this morning.

After the jurors had been excused Mr. Loughran objected to the joint trial of the defendants Baessler and Conner. He stated that there were service and 9 days where service was by mail.

Lounsberry stated that he believed the rights of the defendants would be prejudiced by the manner in which jurors were served and challenged the entire list. In the case where no answer was made when the names were called he asked an investigation and return as to why the jurors had failed to respond. In two instances the juror was dead and Sheriff Saxe reported in other instances the juror was not located. In a couple of instances apparently the wrong name was given. One man in court stated that notice had been given him under the name of Jacob Schmidt but that there was no such man and he, Adolph Schmidt was given the summons. In such cases Judge Traver dismissed the juror on the grounds that there was no such man as summoned. He also informed counsel for defendants that he would remove any other juror's name from the list if objected to on the grounds that the man who responded was not the man who was named in the summons.

Judge Traver instructed Sheriff Saxe to investigate and report back to the court why certain men failed to respond and if ill to produce a doctor's certificate.

Judge Traver then disallowed the challenge and stated that there was

Proposed U. S. Aid To Home Owner Seeks Creditor-Debtor Adjustment

By J. R. BRACKETT
New York (AP)—Debt of America's home owners is greater than that of America's farmers, federal statistics show.

To relieve both burdens is the aim of projected federal legislation. The mortgage debt of the farmer is about $1,500,000,000, of the small home owner about $20,000,000,000.

Total debt on urban real estate is $55,000,000,000, including large apartments, office and other big buildings, held by virtually every lending institution in the nation.

Removes Farm Plan
The new administration plan to aid the small home owner is similar in action and effect to the farm plan.

It proposes to reduce both the face of the mortgage and the interest rate through mutual agreement of debtor and creditor.

It is directed toward those home owners whose homes have a value not exceeding $10,000, the present limit set by the government.

There are no statistics available to show what proportion of the $20,000,000,000 of home mortgages these $10,000-and-under homes represent. But the proportion is sizable in amount preponderant in number of debtors, statistics indicate.

The home owner seeking aid under the proposed plan simply would approach the new Federal Home Owners Loan corporation either directly or in cooperation with the individual or institution who holds his mortgage.

Reductions Sought
The loan corporation would seek to reduce the face of the mortgage, give the original lender bonds with interest guaranteed by the government.

For this reduced amount, and take over the mortgage at a lower rate of interest.

No published figures show how many mortgages are in danger of foreclosure, but the government expects about $2,300,000,000 in new financing to be enough for the needy cases. Some city owners have objected to the plan on the ground it should cover larger mortgages so that home owners in metropolitan areas where the proportion of homes ending more than $10,000 is larger, all sang the first and fourth verses, the men the second verse and the ladies the third verse. The Easter meditation was given by the Rev. Vernon Nagel of Hurley Reformed Church, who took for his theme, "How Shall I Know He Lives in Me?"

The Rev. Mr. Nagel's talk was very helpful and comforting. Easter communion of prayer. Several impressive prayers were offered. The Easter Revelation, a skit where the Easter story brings with it the sound of sweet music, was given by Perry Berago, violinist, and Judge Irving C. Barnes, the voice, but due to unfavorable weather for Mr. Berago's instrument, was omitted and Mr. Barnes gave the reading, "The Triumph of Easter."

"All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" was sung by the assembly. In the absence of the Rev. Robert L. Mauterstock, which was due to ill health, the Rev. Russell Branson of the Clintonville Friends Church pronounced the benediction. The Rev. Mr. Ritchie expressed his appreciation of the interest taken in the first meeting of its kind to be held in this locality and thanked all for making it a success. It is hoped another year more will be interested and a larger program carried out. All who attended felt well paid for their effort.

Escapes Technocracy

New England Milder
New England's climate has grown steadily milder almost every year for fifteen years, according to meteorologist in charge of the Boston weather bureau.

How Uncle Sam Would Settle It

Uncle Sam would stand between the mortgage-burdened home owner and the mortgage-holder if projected federal legislation is approved. In the end, according to the steps outlined in the hypothetical transaction above, the debtor's obligation would be reduced, the creditor given by a new mortgage based on the adjusted figures.

would receive more benefit. Easing of the home mortgage burden is held important not only to the homeowner alone but also in many cases to the holder of the mortgage.

Billions In Credit 'Frozen'
Loan institutions find themselves with billions of frozen credits in the form of mortgages which may become liquid under the new plan. Private, authoritative statistics show that 27.5 per cent of the total assets of life insurance companies is in urban real estate; 52.8 per cent of

These securities are of more importance to lending institutions than are farm mortgages. While they will be reduced in amount under the government plan they will be replaced with more liquid bonds, enabling the institutions to carry the remaining debtors more easily and to protect their other assets from forced liquidation.

MUCH BOGUS MONEY IS BEING FLOATED

Counterfeiters Spur Activities in Depression.

Washington.—Depression and unemployment have brought an increase in counterfeiting and led to greater vigilance on the part of the United States secret service. Descriptive warning circulars of seventeen examples of counterfeit notes have been broadcast during the last fiscal year and about seventy unidentified productions of varying types and denominations have been circulated in different sections of the country for short periods.

"In all my experience I have never known a time when counterfeiting was so prevalent," said Chief W. H. Moran recently. The experience he referred to covers the last half century. Idleness and hunger lead to desperation, and desperation has turned more than one honest man into a counterfeiter, according to Chief Moran, who observed that counterfeiting invariably increases in hard times.

Many Are Arrested.
The only real measure of the volume of counterfeiting now going on may be found in statistics relative to arrests and to the seizures of spurious money.

In the year ended June 30, 1932, counterfeit notes aggregating $540,538 and altered notes aggregating $24,215 were seized by government operatives of the service, and counterfeit coins totaling $49,773 were confiscated. About 2,000 persons were arrested charged with counterfeiting and passing counterfeit notes.

"The counterfeit notes captured during the year were largely used in evidence against the makers and passers," Chief Moran said. "In connection with investigations and arrests, agents captured or seized 900 plates and glass and film negatives for printing counterfeit obligations and securities, including five plates for foreign notes, 359 molds for counterfeiting coins, including three molds for foreign coins, and twenty-one dies, together with a large quantity of miscellaneous materials and paraphernalia."

A large percentage of the men held for counterfeiting were convicted. Methods of detecting counterfeiters vary widely. Generally speaking, a counterfeit investigation is begun when spurious money is known to have been passed or when an attempt has been made to pass it. Much of it is prepared by the photo-engraving process and is easily detected. Money made from engraved plates usually gets by until it reaches banks. In a few cases counterfeiters have been accepted even by banking experts.

Gets Anonymous Tips.
Information concerning counterfeiting operations is sometimes received by the secret service from anonymous sources; sometimes as a result of investigations of other crimes by local police; sometimes from persons seeking revenge. Capture of counterfeit money plants is thus sometimes possible before notes or coins actually have been put into circulation.

Only in rare instances does the counterfeiter escape. In normal times he is very soon caught. Under present conditions, Chief Moran said, he is able to remain at large for a longer period, because of the large volume of counterfeiting.

The public is warned from time to time by the secret service of the presence of bogus money in various parts of the country. Formal notices are given to the press together with a complete description of the spurious currency and the defects by which it may be detected.

Antelopes Eat Crops in Nebraska; Menace Farms

Sidney, Neb.—In this civilized country, where many complain wild game life is all but snuffed out, there are some who complain wild game is becoming pestiferous and a menace to property.

Farmers of Kimball and Cheyenne counties are demanding that something be done about wild antelope herds, which are eating up hay.

One farmer has gone so far as to present a bill to the state legislature demanding $100 for damage done by antelopes to his crops.

Antelopes have become so thick that several efforts have been made to round them up and place them in Wild Cat state game preserve, south of Gering, in Scottsbluff county. It is estimated there are 350 of them running wild. They are protected by the state, thereby preventing their being killed off by the protesting farmers.

Church to Exhibit

Crucifixion Coat

Trier, Germany.—Jesus' coat without seam, woven from the top throughout, for which the soldiers cast lots after they had crucified him, will be shown from July 23 to September 3 in the Trier cathedral. This garment, one of the most valuable relics in the Christian world, is reputed to have been brought to Trier more than a thousand years ago by St. Helena, the mother of Emperor Constantine VI. It has been in the cathedral's treasure chamber since 1198. The coat has been exhibited a number of times in the last century—the last time in 1891, when more than two million Christians came from all parts of the earth to view it.

Kingston: "Gabriel Over the White House." A compelling and convincing performance by that actor, Walter Huston, makes this timely talkie thought provoking and entertaining at one and the same time. It's the story of a politician, shored into the highest office accorded an American citizen through the direct aid of a strong political party, and who shakes off the yoke of the party leaders on assuming the presidency and proceeds to make the world safe for democracy. There is a lot of idealism in this show, and those people who follow the editorial beliefs of William Randolph Hearst will find this talkie done in that vein. But the electrifying performance of Walter Huston as the dictatorial president is the important thing to witness, and the political creed that the talkie follows is only the background to aid Mr. Huston in his noteworthy portrayal. Action, excitement, the pressure of present day events, optimism, and faith are all to be found in this story during the course of its telling. Karen Morley, Franchot Tone, Walter Byron, and Dickie Moore are all featured players in the large supporting cast. Something to see.

Orpheum: "Phantom President" and "Two Fisted Law." George M. Cohan makes his screen debut in the first picture, a clever story in a musical vein that tells what happens when a president has a double substitute for him. Jimmy Durante and Claudette Colbert are also in the cast. "Two Fisted Law" is a western thriller with Tim McCoy.

Broadway: "Me and My Girl" and "The Outsider." Feature number one is a laughable comedy offering with Joan Bennett and Spencer Tracy sharing equal honors in the featured roles. In this fast moving story, Mr. Tracy plays the part of a wise cracking policeman, and Miss Bennett is a hard boiled girl who falls in love with him. Others in the cast are George Walsh, J. Farrell MacDonald and Henry B. Walt. "The Outsider" is a peculiar story, featuring a group of new screen faces.

Tomorrow
Kingston: "Secrets." After a long absence from the screen, Mary Pickford returns in a story so realistic and beautiful in its treatment that the play is worth going out of the way to see. Amid a background of the growing west of yesterday, Miss Pickford plays the role of a wealthy Yankee girl who falls in love with a Westerner, and who goes to the hardships of frontier life instead of marrying a titled gentleman. Due to the excellent direction of Frank Borzage, this romantic story must be classed as one of the best pictures of the year, for it is human, enjoyable, and oftentimes exciting. But the brilliant acting of Miss Pickford is the outstanding part of the picture, and her dramatic skill is worth seeing. Others in the cast include Leslie Howard, C. Aubrey Smith, Ned Sparks and Blanche Friderici.

Orpheum: "By Whose Hand" and "The Savage Girl." Ben Lyon and Barbara Weeks are co-featured in the first murder mystery feature attraction, a murder mystery with plenty of punch. "Savage Girl" is a comical farce with a cast that includes Rochelle Hudson and Walter Byron.

Broadway: "Devil and the Deep." Charles Laughton steals this dramatic picture from both Gary Cooper and Tallulah Bankhead, and also proves himself to be one of the foremost actors on the screen today. In this play, Mr. Laughton is a submarine commander who goes crazy with jealous rage when he discovers that his wife has a lover. For revenge, he takes them both to the bottom of the sea in the submarine, and the action from that point on is dynamic. The work of Mr. Cooper and Miss Bankhead is outstanding, but it is overshadowed by the brilliance of Mr. Laughton. The underwater scenes are especially effective, and the show hasn't a dull moment.

Matters Before The Surrogate

Will of William Keenan, who died in the town of Saugerties February 27, admitted to probate upon petition of Helen R. Sarah and Joseph T. Keenan, executors. There is real property valued at not to exceed $7,000 and personal of not more than $4,000. To daughters, Sarah and Helen, town of Saugerties and Mary of New York city is bequeathed the house and lot, with contents of house, situated on the northerly side of the Saugerties-Woodstock turnpike; also the lot opposite. The rest of the realty is given to the son, Joseph T. Keenan. To Sarah Keenan is given $1,000; to Helen, Mary and Joseph Keenan, $500 each; to grandchildren, Catherine and Mary Keenan, Fish Creek, $100 each. The rest of the estate is left to the four children, share and share alike. Grant M. Brinlier is the attorney.

Will of Denis Sheehan, who died at Ruby November 18, admitted to probate upon petition of Mary A. Sheehan, the widow, who is named executrix. The estate consists of real property valued at not to exceed $4,000 and personal of not more than $1,600. The entire estate is left to the wife for life, with use of principal if necessary; any remainder to the children, Ellen V. Mary, Kathleen, Denis and Edward. A succeeding paragraph exempts from the devise to the wife the land lying on the southerly side of the Ruby road and gives it to a brother, Daniel Sheehan. M. O. Auchmoody is the attorney.

Letters of administration issued to John and Elizabeth Hess, son and daughter and only heirs at law, in the estate of Annette Hess, who died in Stone Ridge March 26. The estate consists of personal property valued at not to exceed $4,000. V. R. Van Wagonen is the attorney.

Will of Eva Nelson, who died in the town of Lloyd February 12, admitted to probate upon petition of Alexander C. Dow, who is executor and attorney for the estate. The estate amounts to less than $5,000 personal, and is given to a half-brother, Clayton Halstead—in case of his prior death, to his wife, Tillie C. Halstead—in recognition of kindnesses extended to testator during her lifetime.

Letters of administration in the estate of Abraham L. Hoffman, who died in the town of Wawarsing November 24, issued to a sister, Mary E. Appell of the Bronx, New York city. The known heirs and next of kin are Alice Hoffman Sullenberger of Woodrow, Pa., Arissa Hoffman, the Bronx, nieces, and David Hoffman of the Bronx, a nephew. Addresses of the children, if any living, of Narissa Maria Morris, a deceased sister, are unknown. Matilda Hoffman, more than 20 years ago the wife of deceased, has not been heard of for more than 26 years, according to the petition and cannot be located. The estate consists of a ten acre farm on Oak Ridge, town of Wawarsing, estimated value $1,000, and personal of not to exceed $1,000. Cleon B. Murray is the attorney.

Letters in the estate of Ida Roosa, who died in Kingston April 1, issued to Zachariah Roosa, husband. Heirs are the husband and a son, Charles. There is personal property of not to exceed $200. V. B. Van Wagonen is the attorney.

Letters in the estate of Blandina K. Bell, also known as Dona K. Bell, who was a resident of the town of Rosendale and died in Kingston March 16, issued to the husband, Joshua Bell. Other heirs at law are the daughters, Mary Olive Every of Kingston and Dora K. Bell of the town of Rosendale and a son, Franklin D. Bell of New York city. There is interest in a farm at Whiteport, estimated value $3,000 and personal of not to exceed $750. M. O. Auchmoody is the attorney.

To get real motoring satisfaction... you need the SIZE, the WEIGHT, the QUALITY Buick provides

"What a difference!" "This is real comfort." "It takes a car like this to make motoring really enjoyable." Those are the comments we hear when people come to us to find out what we mean by the statement, "Buick gives more and better miles."

Buick gives more and better miles because it's a big car—with wheelbases from 119 to 138 inches in length. It has the weight necessary to assure road-steadiness and riding comfort—3866 to 4901 pounds. It has been constantly improved in quality of design, materials and workmanship throughout thirty years of progressive manufacturing.

To get real motoring satisfaction, you need this size, this weight and this quality. We shall be glad to demonstrate the new Buick Eight and let you see for yourself the greater enjoyment you can expect from a Buick. We will also show you that a new Buick Eight is inexpensive to own.

New Paler, April 15.—Miss Elm... in taking charge of the... in the absence of Mrs. Cath... Schoemaker, who is ill.

Miss Evelyn Dubois and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome LeFevre, who have been spending the winter in Florida, returned home on Wednesday.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, April 19, at the home of the president, Mrs. Ida Stephens, on Church street. The devotionals are in charge of Miss Robert L. Mauterstock and Miss Emma Rosen has the afternoon program.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Harvey entertained their son, Averill, of the United States Navy, and a friend over the week-end.

Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Van der Berg entertained guests at dinner on Monday evening.

The Lloyd Methodist Church will serve a supper on April 20. The menu will include ham, succotash, cabbage salad, coffee and pie a la mode. The supper will begin at 7:30.

Chester Elliott and family were guests of friends at West Point Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Lewis accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Burton Abrams of Oshville to Marlborough on Sunday, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Schoonmaker.

Mrs. Carrie DuBois entertained Mr. and Mrs. David T. Van Wageningen on Sunday afternoon.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hornbeck were host and hostess to a number of their friends.

The Rev. and Mrs. Edward Tammen and daughter Helen, who are leaving Grace Methodist Episcopal for their new home in Hancock were guests of the Rev. Robert L. Mauterstock and family on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Frank J. LeFevre and Miss Martha Anderson were in Newburgh on Friday.

Mrs. Rufus Jenkins of Modena was a caller in town on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Webb Kniffen and daughter

Tips ON CONTRACT

Let Them Guess.

By TOM O'NEIL.

There are two variations of the... In a real game the... cannot avoid depending on a long suit of the contracting partnership, cards which are potential trick takers.

A pseudo-squeeze forces an adversary who can beat the contract to watch his step. If he does not retain the right card, the declarer is home.

Often the decision for the defense is difficult, especially when the declarer by subtle maneuvers has conveyed the impression that he holds certain cards which he lacks.

Here is an example:

♥	A754
♦	KQ752
♣	KQ75
WEST
♠	KQ75
♥	AQ3
♦	KQ752
♣	KQ75
EAST
♠	AQ3
♥	A754
♦	KQ752
♣	KQ75
SOUTH
♠	AQ3
♥	A754
♦	KQ752
♣	KQ75

Mrs. Hilda Zontlein, sitting South, opened the auction with one club, North bid three clubs. South four clubs and North six. West and East passed all the while.

West opened the king of diamonds. Just how to avoid losing two diamond tricks became a problem for the declarer. Mrs. Zontlein took the first artful step toward solution when she laid off the first trick, letting the king of diamonds make.

Notwithstanding East's encouraging eight-spot, West feared he was being subjected to a bath coup and that South had the diamond knave. So he shifted to a heart.

The ace of hearts was played from dummy, and then three rounds of clubs were taken, followed by two rounds of hearts. The ace of spades was led from the South hand, with a spade ruff in dummy following. Then trumps were played. With three cards left in each player's hand the situation was:

♠	AQ3
♥	A754
♦	KQ752
♣	KQ75
WEST
♠	KQ75
♥	AQ3
♦	KQ752
♣	KQ75
EAST
♠	AQ3
♥	A754
♦	KQ752
♣	KQ75
SOUTH
♠	AQ3
♥	A754
♦	KQ752
♣	KQ75

South led the club ten. West reasoned that if South had the knave and another diamond the contract could not be beaten; that South must be manipulating things in an effort to take a trick with a spade.

And so West shed the diamond ten. South then led a diamond, took the trick with ace and led a diamond for the slam trick.

West should have discarded the spade king, especially since East had echoed in spades while trumps were being played. The declarer's failure to take the first diamond trick put West, an outstanding player, to a hard guess.

Conscience-Stricken Revoker.

Mr. A. doubled a vulnerable contract. It was redoubled. Inadvertently he failed to follow suit. Much to his chagrin, he discovered it himself and no one else noticed it as the play progressed.

He had the cards to set the contract, but to protect them he would

The Worried Animals
By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"Quack, quack," said Mrs. Quacko Duck, "where is Jelly Bear?"

"Quack, quack," quacked Mr. Quacko Duck. "Why hasn't he come?"

"He should remember my hours," said Top Notch, the Rooster. "That's the trouble with creatures who like to sit up late. They never stop to consider that others like to go to sleep early."

"It's all very well for Jelly Bear to sit up late! He likes to turn night into day and he has told me how he often did his marketing at night. Imagine!"

Top Notch started crowing at the top of his rooster voice.

"Cock-a-doodle-do, Jelly Bear, Jelly Bear, I wait you!"

"Well," said Willy Nilly. "I shouldn't be sitting around here waiting for him to come and tell us stories. I have so much to do."

Willy Nilly stroked one of his side whiskers and continued:

"I haven't any more backbone than a fluffy cloud floating across the sky. But it is so hard to start doing any work while expecting someone, and I do want to hear the story."

Then, too, Willy Nilly was worried.

"I'll run out and look for him and tell him we are all waiting," said Rip, the Dog. Rip was devoted to Jelly Bear, and he, too, was worried.

"We're all worried about him," the animals all agreed. And the more they thought about the dear, Jelly Bear, the more they worried.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 15 (AP).—The Stock Market quietly resumed its advance toward midday today, after the setback of the previous session. Metal issues led the rather sluggish upturn, with steel particularly firm. Silver issues were favorably affected by the large vote polled in the Senate yesterday in favor of re-monetization although the measure was defeated.

In the steel, U. S. Steel common and preferred, National Steel, Republic, Bethlehem, American Rolling Mill and A. M. Byers all advanced 1/4 to more than 1 point. U. S. Smelting and International Silver pushed up about a point, and copper were up fractionally. National Lead jumped 3 in a thin market. Sugar was firm with American Sugar up 2, despite some profit taking in the futures market. Miscellaneous issues up a point or so included Allied Chemical, DuPont, American Can, American Telephone and Homestead Mining. Rails and utilities in the

Expect Verdicts in Moscow Trial Tonight

Moscow, April 15 (AP).—Verdicts by the court in the trial of six British engineers and 11 Russians, concluded today, are not expected to be returned until late tonight. According to Russian custom Judge Vassili Ulrich must write his entire last speech, together with the verdicts in his own handwriting, which is expected to take considerable time.

APPEALS TO UNDERWORLD TO HELP FIND HIS SON

Chicago, April 15 (AP).—The scope was widened today in the hunt for 19-year-old Jerome Factor, held by kidnapers for $50,000 ransom, as police and alleged underworld agents working on the case crossed trails. Following an anonymous telephone tip yesterday, police raided a loop hotel suite and surprised six men they identified as Capone henchmen as they were studying pictures of three men suspected by police of membership in a northern Illinois-Iowa kidnap and extortion ring. The pictures were of Ted Patterson, 25, Archie Brown, 26, both of Chicago, and Joseph Varamona and police said had been obtained from records of Des Moines, Ia., police. Varamona pleaded not guilty to a kidnapping charge when arraigned with nine others in Federal court at Peoria, Ill., yesterday as a result of arrests following investigation of the kidnappings of Aldenhager, Haughe, East Molina, Ill., and Fred De Filippi, Spring Valley, Ill., last fall. He has been held in the county jail at Peoria under $25,000 bond since April 10.

Patterson, arrested here last fall in the kidnapping investigation, and later released in under bond at present, with Brown on charges in connection with a Sangamon county, Ill., bank robbery. The alleged Capone gangsters who were surprised with the pictures were Sam Hunt, Louis Kramer, Tony Accardo, Edward Gerda, Louis Romano and Michael Spranza. Before taking them to headquarters police said a man telephoned the hotel room and identified himself as John (Jake the barber) Factor, father of the young victim, and offered to provide bond if charges were placed against them. The call police said bore out reports circulated by Factor's friends that he had appealed to the underworld for help just as he did several years ago when he himself received kidnapping threats.

F. T. A. No. 2 Food Sale. The Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 2 will hold a food sale on Friday afternoon, April 15.

main were somewhat over, and Coca Cola dropped 3, before recovering partially. Inflation was on almost every tongue in the financial community, as a result of the controversy in the Senate, and many quarters were convinced that either currency or credit expansion on a substantial scale was in the making. Announcement of moderate gold exports, licensed by the treasury, were interpreted as indicating that the dollar would be defended in the foreign exchange markets, although some inflationists have been strongly urging that the dollar be permitted to decline.

Steel quarters were impressed by further firmness in scrap prices. The railroads are still being watched hopefully for new business for the steel makers. Steel rails produced in 1932 were announced by the American Iron and Steel Institute at 42,454 gross tons, less than half the output of 1931, and the smallest of the current century. Freight car loadings, as indicated by individual reports thus far at hand, held up fairly well last week.

Society Notes

A House Warming. Ulster Park, April 15—Wednesday evening, April 15, friends and neighbors gathered to give Mr. and Mrs. M. Berry a house warming in their new home in Ulster Park. Music and singing made the evening merry, and some new steps in dancing were a delight to all. Mrs. Berry received many useful gifts. Mrs. F. Huth thought it was proper and fitting on such an occasion to give the new house a name. It will be known as "Chalcedony." Everybody gave a rousing cheer for the Chalcedony Cottage. Delicious refreshments were served and the guests departed in the wee hours of the morning wishing Mr. and Mrs. Berry and family good luck and success in their new home.

CHILD GUIDANCE SPECIALIST TO DISCUSS "WHY WORRY?" How a worrying parent may produce nervousness, unwholesome behavior, and personality adjustments in a child will be outlined in a talk to be given by Dr. Margaret Wylie, child guidance specialist from the New York State College of Home Economics, who speaks Thursday, April 20, at the court house in Kingston. Dr. Wylie calls her talk "Why Worry?"

"Parents tend to worry about their children, their health, their progress in school, their friends, their manners and language, and almost anything else about a child, and the old slogan, 'Don't worry' is about as ineffective in overcoming the habit as saying 'Don't' to a child."

Dr. Wylie will attempt to explain the nature of worry and how it may be overcome by active methods. The meeting is open to all parents in the city and county. It will begin at 2 p. m. A large group is expected.

Judge Thayer Critically Ill. Boston, April 15 (AP).—Judge Webster Thayer, presiding justice of the internationally famous Sacco-Vanzetti trial, is critically ill at the University Club. The judge, who is 75, suffered a shock at the club Friday and has remained there since. Dr. A. Everett Austin, his physician, said today that the judge's condition was serious.

Births At Kingston Hospital. Monday at the Kingston Hospital a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Trent Merton of 206 North street. Dr. Krom was the attending physician.

This morning a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Craver of 163 Green street. Dr. Johnston was the attending physician.

Our Growing Population. The following births have been reported to the board of health: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Joyce of 135 Brury avenue, a daughter, Kathleen Elizabeth, at Benedictine Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yallum of 167 Wurts street, a son, Robert, at Benedictine Hospital.

Killed in Fall From Hotel. New York, April 15 (AP).—Mrs. Travers, 33, was killed today in a fall from her sixth floor room in the Hotel San Carlos, 150 East 54th street. Police said her mother, Mrs. William Collier, lives at 187 Smithwood Drive, Snyder, Erie county.

"The Last Supper" in Glass. Some 300,000 pieces of glass were required to make a copy to mosaic of Leonardo Da Vinci's famous painting, "The Last Supper," shown in the Pergamon museum in Berlin. It is about 23 feet long, and 12 feet high.

SALMON RIVER INVADES VILLAGE, INUNDATES HOUSES. Malone, N. Y., April 15 (AP).—The Salmon river, out of its banks and flooding the countryside, today invaded a section of the village and inundated several dwellings and business houses.

A heavy rainfall augmented by snow from the Adirondack Mountains, raised the stream above all previous high water marks.

One dwelling in Howard street was surrounded by water and part of the street was flooded. Several dwellings and stores on low ground along the river had from two to three feet of water in them. The river continued to rise today. Persons had sufficient time to move out of buildings endangered by the stream.

Chicken Pie Supper. The Ladies Aid Society of the Fair Street Reformed Church will serve a chicken pie supper on April 26.

One Juror Accepted In Quick Murder Case

As he did not know either of the people, Mr. Mathews' ability to serve on the panel was challenged by Mr. Leansberry on the grounds that he had not been regularly summoned. Mr. Mathews was a salesman summoned by the sheriff at the direction of the court to try civil matters last week. Mr. Leansberry stated that he had asked for a list of eligible jurors and Mr. Mathews' name was not on the list and he was a "surprise juror." District Attorney Murray stated that it was an equally surprising matter to him, too. Excused by the court.

Fred Snider of Highland, a salesman, said he knew nothing of the case and had not read of it. He was excused by the People. James J. McGrath of Kingston, formerly of Whiteport, was called. He said he had read of the case but had no opinion. He, too, was excused by the People. Court recessed at this point until 2 o'clock. The People have exercised two excuses, the defendants none. All jurors who had been examined at the morning session and not accepted to serve on the case were excused for the term.

Maines Was Held for Grand Jury Action

Accused of Using a Bad Check to Purchase Groceries at the Schaffer Store on Lower Broadway—Check Was Signed With Name of Carl G. Fischer Who Said It Was a Forgery.

Bernard Maines of 99 DeWitt street was held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of second degree forgery when arraigned before Judge Culliton in police court on Monday. He had been arrested on complaint of A. P. Speers of the Schaffer grocery store at 40 Broadway. Mr. Speers alleged that Maines had entered the store last Saturday and purchased $3.99 worth of groceries and had tendered a check for $10 in payment. Mr. Speers had given Maines, he said, $6.01 in change, and after Maines had left the store Mr. Speers said he became suspicious of the check and called on Carl G. Fischer of East Strand, whose name was signed to the check, to ask him if the check was good. Mr. Fischer informed Mr. Speers that he had not drawn the check and that it was not his signature. That led Mr. Speers to having Maines arrested on the forgery charge.

ATTEMPT TO ROB "HOLE IN THE WALL" THWARTED

An attempt to rob the "Hole in the Wall" on Thomas street, was made 3 o'clock this morning by three youths who escaped before several civilians and two police officers could intervene and prevent their get away.

Charlie Floyd, who stays at the Thomas street place, heard a noise at one of the doors leading into the establishment and went to investigate. He was struck on the head with a flashlight by one of the men. The blow stunned Floyd and the three ran away.

They had an old model T ford parked in front of the Palace corner from Broadway, around the corner on Thomas street, and sped away in the car before the license number could be obtained. Harry Sills who operates the Palace at a man named Haber followed the route taken by the Ford, after they had been informed of the attempted robbery, but could find no trace of the men.

The police department, notified of the incident, detailed Officers George Borters and Walter Fitzgerald to investigate.

Besides the searchlight dropped by the man who hit Floyd with it and a pair of rubbers there are no other clues for the police to work upon.

Supreme Court Rules Doctors May Operate

New York, April 15 (AP).—The Appellate Division of the Supreme court today upheld the right of Judge George Smyth of the Westchester county children's court to order an operation performed on a two-year-old Helen Vance, who had been spirited away from her home at Hastings by her parents.

Helen Vance is suffering from a malignant tumor in her left eye which doctors believe will cause her death unless it is removed, although the operation would cost the sight of that eye.

The parents, recent immigrants, refused to permit the operation and agents of the Children's Society took the matter to Judge Smyth. He ordered the operation but stayed his own order pending ruling on it by the Appellate Division.

While Judge Smyth was waiting to hear the higher court's decision as to his right to order an operation on the baby he himself had to go to a hospital to undergo a minor operation. He was expected to be back in court next Monday.

From the hospital he issued a statement saying that he would be "just as considerate of the mother as possible." He said he had decided when his original order for the operation was to be executed and there was the possibility that the operation might be delayed again by appeal to the Court of Appeals at Albany. Such action could be taken by the man appointed as legal guardian for the child by Judge Smyth at the time he first ordered the operation.

James J. Walker Weds Miss Compton

CANON, France, April 18 (AP).—Former Mayor James J. Walker and Betty Compton, American actress, were married today.

The couple entered the city hall here by the back door to avoid the curious persons.

They were married at 11:15 a. m. by Mayor Gauguier of Cannes. Witnesses for Walker were his lawyer, Alfred Sharon, and his hotel proprietor, M. Martinez. Dr. Joseph Fisher, Walker's physician, was witness for Miss Compton.

The bride's mother, an Associated Press correspondent, and one other person were the only additional spectators at the ceremony.

Immediately afterward, Mr. and Mrs. Walker ran through a group of photographers and an inquisitive crowd. The bride wore a green and a green tailored flannel dress. Walker wore a navy blue suit, a blue shirt and tie to match.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, Mayor Gauguier made a brief speech in French, saying the city of Cannes was grateful to have both the bride and groom living here.

Addressing Walker, the mayor said: "I hope when you are recalled to America to take another official position, probably as mayor of New York, you will remember Cannes pleasantly."

Walker, for whom the speech was translated, did not reply.

Friends expect the couple to live at the bride's villa, Beau Geste, perched on a hill near Cannes, among flowers and Mimosa trees, looking over one of the most beautiful spots on the Riviera.

The bride recently expressed a hope that Walker would buy a home here since the villa does not belong to her. She said she hoped, too, that they would have children.

From the city hall, the Walker party went to the former New York mayor's hotel for a wedding luncheon.

Friends said the Walkers would be gone on an automobile trip for a fortnight.

MEETINGS BEING PLANNED TO HEAR DR. G. F. WARREN

Numerous communities in Ulster county are cooperating with other communities all over New York State in holding meetings Friday evening, April 21, to hear some of the fundamental issues in the present economic situation discussed by Dr. G. F. Warren of Cornell University.

Dr. Warren and Dr. C. E. Ladd, Dean of the State College of Agriculture, will speak over a state-wide radio hook-up at 8:30 p. m.

The talks will be directed particularly to the hundreds of community meetings which will be held, but everybody will be interested in the discussions.

Several communities are planning special local programs including short talks, skits, recitations, singing and other features, before and after the radio program. Shandaken is planning to have a radio installed in the M. E. Church hall and listen to the program in conjunction with their regular community singing.

Modena will have a gathering at the home of Mrs. Emma Palmer where the program of amusements will take place and refreshments served. New Paltz is planning a special program at the Grange Hall. Others are also being planned, but the details have not been reported.

The public is invited to participate in any of these meetings wherever held. It will be a fine opportunity to hear the fundamental phases of the present situation discussed by one of the leading authorities on the subject. Those who are not able to attend one of the community meetings should plan to tune in at home at 8:30 Friday evening and hear this program.

INTERESTING OLD PICTURE COLLECTION ON DISPLAY

Displayed with prominence in the show window of Smith's Book Store at 276 Fair street as well as within the store is part of Wallace A. Becker's collection of photographs and prints of "People and Places in Times Past" in and about Kingston.

Mr. Becker has been collecting these interesting and in most cases totally forgotten and out of print photographs and photographs prints for many years. While he was connected with the Kingston Daily Freeman, this hobby was given a chance to be well supplied with material until he now has without a doubt one of the most interesting groups in this city.

Book pictures as those of Tony Decker, the famous pantomime actor, whom among other famous clowns, a toast will be given this week when a reunion of these funny men will be held in connection with the Ringling Bros. Circus show in New York City.

The show will be in Kingston at the big front of March 1893 in the Rondout Creek when the out-of-going ice dragged 15 tons from their moorings out into the creek.

Alton B. Parker and Henry C. Cook, the then Gov. Miller, Senator Cook and Mayor Palmer Canfield, Philip Elting, his earlier days and many others. This collection will be on display for a few days yet for those who have not had the opportunity of viewing it.

Mr. Smith has been displaying in cartoon form of prominent men of Kingston and Ulster county, taken about 30 years ago. They have been arranged as to their identity, that the old timers might dig back in memory to try and place them by name before the name was displayed. This series may also be seen on display at the book store.

CLINTON AVENUE CHURCH MINSTRELS NEXT WEEK.

The Clinton Avenue M. E. Church Men's Club first annual minstrel and ceremony on Wednesday evening, April 26, in Epworth Hall. Talent under the direction of Raymond J. Parrells is showing fine form.

The program will be in two parts, the first an old fashioned minstrel, with the following cast: Interlocutor, A. W. Stall; ends, "Walk" Hyatt, "Ad" Jones, W. M. "Smitty" Smith, "Dale" Auchmuty, "Jason" Carle and "Smiley" Ed. Myer; chorus, Vernon S. Miller, Clifton Lugo, Emory Happy, Jerry Yapple, Harry Carnwright, Samuel Chase, Raymond DuBois, Frank Elmdorf, Samuel Hyatt, Oscar Newkirk, Kenneth Vaughn, John Chase and Raymond Parrells, Jr.

The second part of the program will present the very spectacular production, "The White Magician," with "Nickerson" and his pictures. This presentation is a big time feature most popularly received and the club considers itself very fortunate in being able to procure this production for the show. Tickets may be procured from the men of the club and at the following stores: Walt Osterander, 23 North Front street, Smith's book store, 276 Fair street, and L. B. Watrous, 590 Broadway.

The orchestra for the entire program is composed of the following musicians: Ida Parrells, piano; Mae Jones, Ellsworth Haines, Seymour Coutant, Earl Van Valkenberg and Robert Wirth, violin; Charles Lord and George Silkworth, trombone; Myron Hopper, saxophone; Earl Pettenger, Bass V and Ferris Williams, traps and drums.

ASHOKAN DEALER HAS REFRIGERATOR REPAIR CREW

DuBois' Corner Garage at Ashokan, one of the Pioneer dealers in Copeland electrical refrigeration units, is now maintaining a service department for all types of refrigeration, commercial, domestic and milk cooling. A force of trained men, capable of servicing a small domestic refrigerator or building a large commercial box, compose this service crew and may be called upon any time without cost.

Mr. DuBois believes that by taking advantage of this service, users of electrical refrigeration will receive the best refrigeration service at the least cost and most economical maintenance.

Russia's Women Workers

Russia has more than six million women wage earners. Practically every grown woman in the Soviet union works for her living. They are engaged in every conceivable form of occupation from high government positions to heavy labor in industry.

They are not only writers, artists, actresses, ballerinas, stenographers, store clerks, teachers, nurses, but even road builders, bricklayers, engineers, metallurgists, surgeons, generals, economists, editors, judges, chemists, collective farmhands, tractor drivers, scientific workers and Arctic explorers.

Dry Ice

"Dry ice" is solid carbon dioxide used as a commercial refrigerant. Carbon dioxide is a colorless, odorless gas, a little more than one and one-half times as heavy as air. It can be liquefied under pressure at any temperature below 31 degrees centigrade. Liquid carbon dioxide has a specific gravity of 0.93 and a boiling point of -78.2 degrees centigrade. It allowed to boil by the release of pressure, liquid carbon dioxide is converted into the white, snow-like solid, by the cooling effect of its evaporation.

World's Deepest River

The Amazon is the deepest river in the world, being 1,300 feet at its mouth and 625 feet in the fall of its mouth. Next in depth to the Amazon river is the Congo, which is 300 to 600 feet deep.

BOLSTEIN CLEVER PLANS SALE NEAR NEW PALTZ

A committee consisting of John Schoonmaker of Accord as chairman, Arnold Peterson and C. A. Stark of Walkkill, is completing plans for a spring sale of pure bred Holstein cattle which will take place on May 5 in the sales barn located on the farm owned by Melvin Richards, two miles west of New Paltz. Forty head of quality Holsteins will be sold starting at 12:30 standard time. All animals will be at the barn during the forenoon for inspection. A printed catalog will be available by May 1 at the Farm Bureau office in Kingston or from the chairman of the committee.

This is the fourth sale being conducted by the Holstein Club. Cattle consignments are limited to members of the club and a committee inspects all animals before they can be listed. All animals are from accredited herds and are negative to the test for Bang abortion. Those with health requirements, together with the Dairy Improvement Association in order on most of the cows, makes this going ice dragged 15 tons from their moorings out into the creek.

Another feature of the sale will be the offering of 15 quality young bulls. This feature is being included as part of the Better Bull Campaign being put on by the Farm Bureau dairy committee. The committee feels that this is a very opportune time to buy a high quality herd sire at a very reasonable cost, and the cheapest way to do this is to raise a good bull calf instead of a poor one.

The sale is one of the projects of the Holstein Club to advertise the 4000 Ulster County cattle and develop a market for quality surplus stock.

DIRECTORS OF MID-HUDSON EGG AUCTION MET FRIDAY.

A special meeting of the directors of the Mid-Hudson Egg Auction took place at the Farm Bureau office in Poughkeepsie on Friday evening.

In addition to A. P. Kaplan, president of the auction, and John Miller, the other director from Ulster county, Oscar Wolven of Saugerties, and James Styles of Cottekill, the two men trucking the eggs, and Albert Kurdt, manager of the Farm Bureau, attended.

Plans were made to develop a still greater demand for Hudson valley eggs by encouraging producers to be still more careful in the grading and handling of eggs. Many of the larger buyers are very well pleased with the interior quality, but the variation in size is too great to pay premium prices for them. As soon as the buyers are assured of a uniform case of the fine high quality, now available on the auction, the directors are confident that the average prices will be still higher than they are at present. It will take a few months to establish confidence and the directors ask that all producers cooperate by sending more well-graded eggs to the auction regularly, thereby building up a volume of carefully selected eggs.

Tagging Major League Bases

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Nothing so far this major league season has been quite so startling as the magnificent showing of the Boston Red Sox, for years the doormat of the American League.

The standings, coldly mathematical, show the Sox have won only one game to four but with a little luck it might just as well have been four victories and no defeats.

Maybe it won't last but Manager Marty McManus has been getting just about the best pitching in either league. His moundmen, called upon to face the clubs picked to finish one-two—the New York Yankees and Washington Senators—have allowed precisely 23 hits in four games, less than six a game.

The "breaks" cost the Sox their first two games with the Yankees. Paul Andrews, Bob Kline and John Welch held the champions to nine hits while Boston was clouting Vernon Gomez for 12 in the opener but Lou Gehrig's homer with two on enabled the Yankees to win, 4-3. Bob Welland granted only five runs in the second battle but Charley Ruffing clouted a homer with the bases filled in the ninth and the champions won again, 6-2. Dusty Rhodes and Kline collaborated on another five-hit masterpiece against Washington Saturday but once more the Sox found Lady Luck frowning on them and they went down, 2-1.

Ill Fortune Breaks
Such ill fortune couldn't continue indefinitely and Tom Yawkey's club finally broke into the winning column yesterday, spilling the Senators, 4-2, as Henry Johnson, aided and abetted by Kline and Welch, held Washington to four hits. And in the process, the Red Sox cracked Alvin Crowder's two-year winning streak of 16 games in succession.

Johnson blanked the Senators with two hits in the first seven innings but weakened in the eighth and was relieved by Kline after one run had scored. Manush's single drove in the second Washington tally but Kline applied the brakes then with the aid of a dazzling catch by Johnny Watwood on Goose Goslin's sizzling liner. Welch pitched the ninth and escaped trouble.

Meanwhile the Sox had touched Crowder for one run in the fourth on McManus' single after Warstler doubled; another in the seventh on singles by Alexander and Watwood; and a third in the eighth when Roy Johnson smashed a home run over the right field fence. The final Sox tally, in the ninth, was made off Al Thomas.

Nationals Rained Out.
The weather man permitted playing of only two other games, both in the American League. The Chicago White Sox assaulted Vic Sorrell and Art Herring for five runs in the first inning but Detroit's Tigers came back to tie the count in the eighth and win in the tenth, 5-5, when the young rookie outfielder, Ervin Fox, cracked a home run with two on. Another rookie, Jo Jo White, clinaxed the eighth inning rally that tied the score with a homer with one on.

The St. Louis Browns won their first victory of the season, smothering five hits off Willis Hudlin and Oral Hildebrand for four runs in the sixth and a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians. It was Cleveland's first defeat. Irvine Hadley went the route for the Browns and gave up only six hits.

Sports Alliance Buries Black Bill

The National Sports Alliance contributed $150 toward the burial today of Black Bill, the Cuban negro boxer who shot himself in New York because he was practically blind and had no money.

For more than a year after he lost the sight of one eye, Bill concealed his plight from Louie Gutierrez, his manager, whose first suspicion was aroused by an old fighter in a gymnasium. Gutierrez took Bill to his apartment, made him hold a book over one eye and then the other and asked him to describe what he (Gutierrez) held in his hand.

"A $5 bill," the negro answered, having seen with his good eye. Gutierrez covered the eye, carefully turned his back, switched bills and repeated his question. "A $1 bill," was the prompt reply.

Two years later the unfortunate boxer confessed he had guessed the answer. He fooled Gutierrez completely and for months Louis would lose his temper when gossip brought new evidence.

Most of all, Gutierrez says sadly, Bill fooled himself. Doctors said afterward they could have saved his remaining eye if he had told the truth the day he was tested.

BILLIARDS

Johnny Naccarato won over Meine Russell 100-90 in the city championship billiard match at the Koenig A. C. Monday. The battle lasted 45 innings. High runs were Russell 18, Naccarato 11.

The 10th round of the billiard series gets under way tonight at Nick's with a match between Clifton Quick and Andy Krum.

SPORT SLANTS By ALAN J. GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor.)

We may be busy right now rolling the baseball season into action, but the springtime activities of the gridiron simultaneously are sufficient to indicate to our Los Angeles scout, Mr. Paul Zimmerman, that Howard Harding Jones is going to be pretty well fixed for talent at Southern California when the 1933 football season rolls around.

Essays Mr. Zimmerman: "Bob Erskine, who played a blocking back assignment last year, goes back to a tackle. He'll be a better tackle than a back, weighs a mere 200 odd pounds and is quite active, as his participation in basketball would indicate. Jones told me two seasons ago when All-Americans were discussed that he thought Erskine was a better tackle than either Tay Brown or Ernie Smith, but since he was a sophomore, he preferred not to make public mention of the fact.

Then there is Houston Harper, the shotpunter on Dean Cromwell's track squad. Harper never played much football at Inglewood, Calif., high, but Jones put him in last year and liked him very much. Erskine will replace Smith, and either Harper or George (Heza) Lady will take Mr. Brown's spot. George weighs 225 pounds, stands 5 feet 2, and knows what to do with the weight.

"Jones has so many tackles that King Hall, brother of Red Hall, a former Trojan tackle, will be a guard next fall. Of course with Larry Stevens and Aaron Rosenberg around, he'll have to be a sub. Hall weighs 215 and stands 6 feet tall.

Ah, That Backfield
Now if you folks thought the backfield was good last year, listen to this. Erskine of course will be gone, but all the other boys are back. Homer Griffith and Irvine (Cotton) Warburton will be enough quarterbacks, but there are at least three other promising lads anxious to move in.

"At halves, Jones has Kenneth Bright, the redhead who moved back from center and threw passes for the first time against Pitt, to the amazement of everyone but your correspondent. Bright was trained at Ventura, Calif., Junior college by a good Nebraska coach, Gene McAllister. "Bob McElsh, a sub half, who throws strikes, is back to replace Erskine, along with Cal Clements and Kenneth Fay, not to mention Gerald Burchard and Jimmy Saunders of the frosh. Jimmy is a brother of Racehorse Russ, who started out as a blocking half and in his senior year became, as you recall, one of the great punting backs as a signal shooter. They say that James is just as good.

Palmer "Promising"
"Gordon Clark, fullback, is still around, and Jones wouldn't miss him anyway, because Cliff Probst, a frosh graduate who went yards and yards last year, is in line for active duty. "Capt. Ford Palmer, an end who runs with the ball, catches lots of passes, punts some and throws occasional passes, is to stay the least, promising. And a whole raft of guys, including Julius Bescoe, who played last year, and Browning, a football and basketball letterman who stands 6.1, and John Seixas, are hanging around.

"I won't say another word, except to point out that there are six good centers, including Curtis Youel of the 1932 team."

CITIES SERVICE SHOWS EARNINGS OF $60,951,000.

Consolidated net earnings of Cities Service Company for 1932 amounted to $60,951,583, according to the 23rd annual report just mailed to stockholders. The consolidated net earnings for 1932 compare with $53,106,832 for 1931, and were sufficient for all taxes, interest, amortization of debt discount, and provision for depreciation and depletion. They were more than 71% of the record of $84,362,933 attained in 1930. Reserve appropriations were deducted from current income during the year and amounted to $18,367,449. The balance of reserves for depletion and depreciation on December 31, 1932, was $127,015,042.

Total assets of the organization on December 31, 1932, amounted to $1,288,104,832. Consolidated current assets were $87,469,014, including $28,565,371 in cash. Current notes payable at the end of 1932 amounted to $58,059,973, a decrease from $68,784,621 on December 31, 1931, and from $91,603,700 at the end of 1930. Since the beginning of 1933 substantial reduction of bank loans maturing this year has been replaced by notes payable due in 1934, which resulted in current assets exceeding current liabilities by about $24,000,000.

Do YOU Know—
That here in the national game of American dates back to the old English game of rounders. The first club in America was the Knickerbocker Club, founded in New York in 1845, but the game did not become national until 1906.

Only Two States Move Phosphorus in Quantity

While there are deposits of phosphate rock in the West, practically all which is used in making powders comes from Florida and Tennessee. Since the early part of the Twentieth century natural phosphate rock has been the principal source of phosphate used for food purposes. Formerly the rock was treated with sulphuric acid, in which process the triphosphate was converted into free phosphoric acid. The crude phosphoric acid usually contained small quantities of impurities, which had to be completely removed before it could be used for food purposes. The purified phosphoric acid was made into monocalcium phosphate by reaction with calcium carbonate. It was then dried in vacuum, milled to a fine granulation and baled to a uniform size. The wet process of producing phosphoric acid has to some extent been supplanted by the volatilization process, in which phosphorus is volatilized, oxidized to phosphoric anhydride and condensed in a small quantity of water, yielding a concentrated solution of phosphoric acid (H<sub>3</sub>PO<sub>4</sub>).

Elephant's Big Part in East Indian Pageantry

Elephant transport, slow but sure, survives in the rough country of Central India and Rajputana, but is gradually being discarded by Indian princes and merchants for the faster automobile, according to a writer in the Manchester (England) Guardian. On the great estates of the maharajas the elephant carriages are retained for state occasions, when the animal plays a leading role in the display of Indian pageantry. From ten to thirty elephants are used at festivities of this kind, especially when a local potentate celebrates a birthday. The beasts are gorgeously outfitted for such occasions, and painted. Their trunks, ears and tails are covered with red, yellow and green flowers and their foreheads are daubed with gilt to match the decorative coats of the howdahs and the trappings of the carriages.

President Killed Men

If you want to stump a person who prides himself or herself on being well informed, ask this question: "What President killed a man?" The quizzed one will probably try to think of some duel or battle in which a President fought. But you further mystify by saying that the killing was done in cold blood. Of course it's a catch question.

Long before he became Chief Executive, Grover Cleveland was a county sheriff and in that capacity officiated at executions. The gallows on which he hanged several murderers is still preserved in a garage in back of the Erie county jail at Cleveland.—The Pathfinder.

Famous Mural Decorations

The Boston public library has many unusually beautiful mural decorations. John Sargent, Edwin Abbey and John Elliott were among the American painters of distinction who were invited to decorate this building. The celebrated French artist Pavis de Chavannes collaborated with them. Sargent contributed "The Frieze of the Prophets." The widow of John Elliott in her recently published biography of her husband tells in detail of his work, which is on permanent exhibition in the building. Edwin Abbey chose for his theme the "Quest of the Holy Grail." His murals are in the delivery room of the library.

Statesman and Gambler

Charles James Fox, English statesman, was a typical gambler of his period, about 150 years ago. He won heavily at the race track but lost at cards. At one time his father had to pay $700,000 of his gaming debts, and at another friends raised $350,000. In addition, he lost all his winnings and his estate. He entered parliament at the age of nineteen, became a cabinet member at twenty-one, and gambled through a lifetime of great political activity. In the course of which he became foreign minister and, save for the dislike of the king, would have been prime minister of England.

Cosmic Rays

The cosmic rays is still an orphan, coming almost uniformly from above, day and night alike, with no more. Most investigators say, from the sun and stars than from the direction of "empty" space.

Because the cosmic rays are so very short, scientists suspect that they are very close to the ultimate kind of radiation. Discovering their source may lead to the hoped-for mechanism whereby men will understand how radiation transforms itself into solid matter and then is rejuvenated somehow to keep the fires of creation burning forever.

Days of Saff-Taking

In France, during the Sixteenth century, Catherine de Medici set the fashion of taking saff for headaches. During the period of the Louis' the making of boxes as well as the taking of saff was regarded as a fine art. Louis XIV employed the best goldsmiths of France for the making of his saff boxes and had studios built for them in the gardens of the Tulleries. The boxes were often of great value and a French galleon prized himself on having a different box for each day of the year, some collections numbering as many as 600 and 800.

POULTRY

BALANCED FEED IS GOOD FOR TURKEY

Well-Selected Ration May Hatchable Eggs

Turkey growers are learning to insure fertile, hatchable eggs during hatching season, the turkey ing flock should receive a well-balanced ration a month to six weeks before eggs are saved for hatching.

Turkey raisers are coming to realize that there is very little difference in the mechanics of production between the turkey and chicken hen; they need the same nutrients for good production.

A well-balanced ration causes stored up in the bodies of the birds the necessary elements needed for the production of eggs that will be and poults that will live. Such a ration should consist of grain, a mixture of ground grains, animal material in the form of meat scraps or green feed, minerals and plenty of fresh water.

Growers should feed a grain mixture composed of one or more grains such as corn, wheat, oats or barley morning and evening.

Keep a mash mixture before the flock all the time. A commonly used mixture consists of equal parts finely ground corn, bran, and meat or meat scraps. Ground wheat or meat scraps may be substituted for the bran and meat, and milk may be entirely or partially substituted for the meat when an adequate supply of the milk is available.

It may be necessary to supply green feed early in the season. Saff is an excellent food. Miscellaneous such as bone meal and oyster shell are most important and should be available. Don't neglect the drinking water!

Causes Leading to and How to Stop Egg-Eating

There are many causes which lead to the egg-eating habit in poultry and the chief of these is the accident breaking of an egg, for once the hen has tasted "hen fruit," they will proceed to break the eggs themselves until they are made to stop it, and it is not altogether an easy matter. Often the want of proper shelving material is the cause of an egg breaking in the first place and the usual desire for lime will lead the hen to eat its shell as well as its contents. Hence the importance of keeping a forming material before laying at all times.

A good remedy for the egg-eating habit is to make the nests as dark as possible, so that the hens are unable to see the eggs after they are laid. Soft hay placed in the nest will cause the eggs to sink out of sight after they are laid. Another remedy is to add an ordinary egg, remove its contents and fill it with mustard and pepper, although the fowl may tackle one first time, fill another one and find that she has had enough. Another plan is to fill an egg with ammonia.

Germinated Oats, Barley Makes Good Green Feed

Germinated oats or barley makes good green feed for poultry. It is usually fed when the sprouts are an inch long, being put in the hoppers on top of the mash. The germinated grain can be very conveniently fed the first thing in the morning. The amount varies from two to five pounds per 100 birds, depending on appetite and production. As production increases, the amount of germinated grain is increased. A grade of oats should be used. The same rule applies to barley. One pound of dry oats makes one and three-fourths pounds of germinated oats. Grain can be successfully germinated by laying it on the ground and covering it with a gunny sack. It is kept moist.—Los Angeles Times.

Poultry Squibs

Only strong vigorous cockerels are typical of their breed and have been bred from high producing large egg dams; should be retained from which to select the breeders that are worth while.

Hens must have shell forming materials in their rations, otherwise they cannot put shells on the eggs. Lime some form is necessary and oyster shell is recommended as very economical.

Although the price difference cents for quality in eggs is less than two years ago, the difference is greater.

Catawba county, N. C., poultry growers have sold one shipment of eggs to eastern markets this year for 21½ cents a pound.

By the act of heading each egg the owner will learn about its quality. No piece of work conducted on a farm will show results so quickly as systematic continuous culling.

ALLIGERVILLE

Alligerville, April 15.—There was an unusually large congregation in Church Sunday morning.

Dr. Canture of Stone Ridge officiated at the Easter communion service and gave a very interesting and inspiring talk on the text, "Why Seek Ye the Kingdom Among the Dead?"

Dr. Canture administered infant baptism to the three little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Atkins and baptized one adult, Elwood Osterhout, who was received into the fellowship of the church.

There were three who brought their letters from other churches, Mrs. Atkins from the Hurley Church and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simpson from the Reformed Church of Accord.

The newly elected members of the congregation were also inducted into office at this time. They were Messrs. Walter Brooks and Russell Trowbridge as elders, Gerald Cahill and Fred Simpson as deacons.

The members of the congregation, on behalf of the congregation, desire to thank the Young People's Society for the beautiful flowers donated by them for the Easter service.

George W. Garrison, Jesse Cook, Virgil Bogart, Mr. and Mrs. Osterhout and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Smith attended the K. of P. Hotel last Thursday night.

The many friends of Mrs. V. B. Cross are pleased to know that she is improving in the Benedictine Hospital, where she has been a patient the past two weeks.

Miss Virginia Smith spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith.

Miss Beatie Harnden of Brooklyn enjoyed the week-end at the Trowbridge house and as is her custom, attended church here Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. V. B. VanWagoner of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. John K. VanWagoner, who have recently returned from Miami, Fla., called at Mr. DeWitt's Sunday afternoon.

It is a pleasure to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Coleman of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., to know that their bungalow in the Peterskill grove is progressing finely and will soon be ready to occupy.

Envelopes Absorbed Moisture, Cost More

New York, April 15 (AP).—The preliminaries to a dinner of honor to Postmaster-General Farley to be held here May 13, have demonstrated the great scientific principle that a wet letter is not as good a day to mail as a dry day.

This meteorological phenomena, whatever it is, has come to the attention of the postoffice department in the matter of invitations mailed to some of the 3,500 persons who are to be given the privilege of buying a $5 ticket to the dinner of honor.

The committee had elaborate invitations printed on choice linen paper. Enclosed in the envelope was a subscription card mentioning the $5, and a return envelope.

Having some misgivings about the weight of the invitation, the committee took a sample to the postoffice and had it weighed. It came within the three-cent stamp requirements.

The great scientific principle which the committee overlooked, however, was that the sample invitation was weighed on a dry day, and the actual mailing was done on a wet day.

So what? The linen paper, in accordance with the well known scientific principle concerning moisture, absorbed moisture. It became overweight.

The post office clerks tried a few on the scales and found they called for another stamp. They put "3-cent postage due" stamps on them.

Considering the fact that the dinner is for the head of the post office department, the committee was chastened. It confessed it had overlooked the great scientific principle of moisture and linen paper.

There were some expressions to the effect that there ought to be special rules by which, perhaps, the moist mail could be put in an oven and dried out. The committee felt that it had mailed a dry invitation and had a right to expect the post office department to deliver a dry invitation.

One of those to whom invitations have been mailed is President Roosevelt. The President, however, will not have to pay three cents postage due because the committee did not include a subscription card, and therefore his letter was within the weight.

For most of the others, however, the dinner will cost six dollars and three cents.

Several Cases In County Court

In county court Monday afternoon Assistant District Attorney N. LeVan Haver arraigned James Hicks before the court on a charge of violating Section 480 of the penal law, abandonment of minor children. The indictment charged that Hicks abandoned a 12-year-old child last February.

Mr. Haver informed the court that Hicks had been making payments and had been reporting to Probation Officer Service. Judge Traver instructed Hicks to continue to report to the probation officer until the opening of the June term of county court. Bail was continued.

Harold Carney charged with grand larceny, second degree, alleged to have been committed January 26 last in this city appeared for arraignment and entered a plea of guilty. A second count of the indictment charged operation of the car involved in the transaction. Mr. Haver informed the court that the complaining witness had expressed a desire for extreme leniency. The defendant is at present employed by the complaining witness. Carney is charged with having taken a Chevrolet car of Mrs. George Pieper of this city and driving it to New Jersey where he was apprehended. He drove away with the car while Mrs. Pieper was engaged on an errand, he having been left in the car at the time. Judge Traver stated that in view of the age of the defendant and the request of the complaining witness he would place Carney on probation until June 5, next, at 2 o'clock.

MRS. THORNTON TOLD TO "PREPARE FOR WORST"

London, April 18 (AP).—The wife of L. C. Thornton, one of the British defendants in the Moscow trial, was prepared for bad news today following receipt of a message from her husband to "prepare for the worst."

Mrs. Thornton said her husband sent her word through the foreign office. She regarded the message as a warning that anything might happen and that she must brace herself for a shock.

"My husband said there is little doubt but that his punishment would be the most severe of all the British prisoners," she said. "I dread to think what this means."

One of those to whom invitations have been mailed is President Roosevelt. The President, however, will not have to pay three cents postage due because the committee did not include a subscription card, and therefore his letter was within the weight.

For most of the others, however, the dinner will cost six dollars and three cents.
